Racial Violence Flares In Arkansas, Alabama

White Pupils Bar Negroes From School

Pro-Integration Leader Beaten At Birmingham

(By The Associated Press)
Violence flared in Arkansas and Alabama Monday as Negroes attempted to enter white schools and jeering whites tried to halt entrance of Negroes into Nashville, Tenn., schools for the first time.

Six Negroes tried to enter the North Little Rock High School, across the Arkansas River from Little Rock Monday but were forced back by 10 white students.

In Birmingham, Ala., a Negro pro-integration leader was beaten and his 12-year-old daughter suffered a leg injury when they appeared at the all-white Phillips High School.

The Negro was able to drive off in his car with Negro pupils he sought to enroll. Two hours later a car carrying four Negroes drove past the school and hurled rocks into windows of the building. None of the students inside were hurt.

Faubus, in a television speech, blamed the Arkansas crisis on federal encroachment on states rights and declared if blood is shed "my conscience will be clear." He reiterated he was preventing immediate integration to "protect the Negro as well as white children and to avoid a very clear and present danger of a race riot."

The Arkansas governor said his state could accomplish orderly integration if given the opportunity. U.S. District Judge Ronald Davies of North Dakota, he said, was "high-handed and arbitrary" in ordering immediate integration of schools.

"They Shall Not Pass"
In the North Little Rock incident, the six Negroes made two efforts to enter the high school. On the first, white students grabbed them and shoved them down the steps and across the campus before police intervened. The Negroes were not hurt.

Shortly afterward school Supt. F. B. Wright tried to lead the six Negroes up the steps. Adults joined the protesting white students, one shouting "they shall not pass."

When Wright and the Negroes tried to pass the group of white students and adults, a husky white student blocked their path. Wright ordered him aside "if you want to stay in this school." The boy replied "I'd rather get out."

In an interview later Wright said he would advise the six Negroes to enroll in a Negro high school. He added: "I don't think (Continued on Page 2; Col. 3)

"Steady Dating" Policy Disdained By Miss America

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The new Miss America said today there is no one mister in her life.

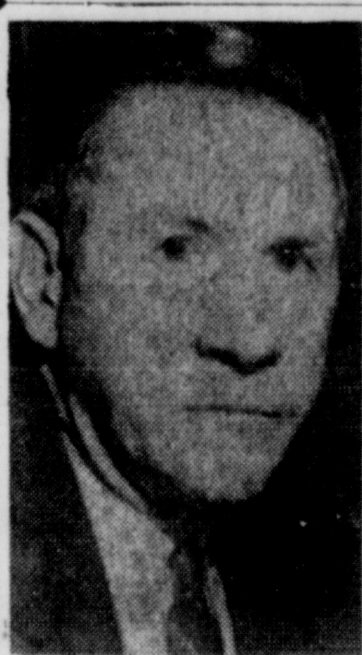

Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur told reporters inquiring about possible marriage plans at a news conference that she has been dating several boys. "They're all very nice boys," she added.

The green-eyed, blonde-haired beauty from Denver, Colo., endorsed a similar policy for other girls as well, commenting: "I think it is important to date as many boys as possible and meet as many people as possible. The more people you meet, the easier it is, I feel, to know when you meet the right boy," she said.

Miss Van Derbur disdained "steady dating."

Soviet Told Not To Miscalculate U.S. Strength

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The United States warned Russia and pro-Soviet Syria today not to miscalculate American military power or "misinterpret our determination" to block communism in the Middle East.

The State Department's No. 3 official, Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy, voiced the warning in a speech at the annual conference of U.S. mayors. He said "It is entirely possible" that the American government's readiness to negotiate an international disarmament agreement "has been misinterpreted in some quarters."

Murphy called attention to big Soviet arms shipments to Syria, Egypt, and Yemen, as well as arrival of "substantial numbers" of Russian technicians in the area. These have been accompanied, he noted, by "a series of Soviet boasts" about advances in inter-continental missiles, naval and air power.

In words clearly aimed at Kremlin rulers, Murphy declared: "It would be unwise to underestimate the industrial and military power of our country, and to misinterpret our determination."

The State Department diplomat, one of Secretary Dulles' key advisers, denounced Moscow's policy of offering weapons "at bargain prices to certain countries with military ambitions." He did not identify these countries but said they "run the grave risk of absorption" and loss of their independence to Russia.

Murphy spoke out amid these developments: 1. Big American Air Force Globemaster and flying boxcar planes unloaded 106 millimeter recoilless rifles at the Jordanian capital of Amman to bolster King Hussein's government against any threat from Syria.

2. The State Department in Washington branded as "false" Egyptian President Fasser's remark that the stern American attitude toward Syria is aimed at splitting the Arab countries and appeasing Israel.

Red A-Blast Detected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission reported today that Russia exploded a nuclear weapon of "moderate intensity" within the last two days.

Negro Minister Attacked By Birmingham, Ala., Mob

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 9 (AP)—A Negro minister was beaten today in an outbreak of mob violence set off by his attempt to enter Negro students at all-white Phillips High School.

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, 35, was knocked down several times and threatened with death by members of a white group which had gathered outside the downtown school.

Shuttlesworth's daughter, Ruby Frederica, 12, suffered a bruised ankle when a car door was slammed against it.

Three white men were arrested by police who battled a dozen or more men until the minister was able to break away and escape. Two hours after the incident, a car containing four Negro men drove past the block-square Phillips building and threw rocks into

Integration Move Backed By President

Outbreak Of Race Violence Deplored By Chief Executive

NEWPORT, R.I., Sept. 9 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration tonight pledged swift action to carry out a federal court order aimed at achieving school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters made the pledge shortly after a federal judge in Little Rock, storm center of the nation's integration troubles, ordered the filing of a petition to block Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus' use of state troops to bar Negro pupils from Central High School there.

Ike Deplores Violence
The action came after the vacation White House, commenting on several outbreaks of violence over segregation, said Eisenhower, like every other American, is against violence "wherever it occurs."

In Little Rock, U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies told federal attorneys to bring the action against Faubus — a critical new step in the dispute between the state and federal government dispute over mingling of white and Negro pupils.

The Newport White House issued this statement: "The attorney general has informed the President that the Department of Justice will comply with the order of the U.S. district court as soon as possible, probably by tomorrow."

Tough Question
This question remained: what would the federal government do to enforce such an injunction if the judge issued one and the governor refused to obey it.

Presidential press secretary Hagerty declined to shed any light.

He told a news conference earlier the administration was considering various alternatives, but he would not discuss them.

The President has said he could not conceive of any circumstances in which federal troops would be used to enforce a federal court order in a civil rights matter.

Russian Vetoes Bar S. Viet Nam, Korea From U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—The Soviet Union today vetoed bids from South Korea and South Viet Nam for U.N. membership.

The votes were Russia's 81st and 82nd vetoes.

The vote of the 11-nation Security Council on each application was 10 in favor and 1 against.

Soviet-sponsored Outer Mongolia failed to win Council approval on its long pending membership bid. The vote was 2 in favor—Russia, Sweden—5 against and 4 abstentions. Seven affirmative votes were needed for approval.

Services To Begin Flu Vaccinations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The military services today announced compulsory vaccination of all men and women in uniform against Asian flu will begin this month.

All service personnel at home and abroad will get the first shots by the end of October.

Nasser said Egypt's policy toward Syria is not changed by the recent events there. "I wish to reaffirm," he said, "that Egypt will stand by Syria to the very end, unconditionally. Whatever the developments are, and however much pressure is exerted on Syria, one thing must be understood, and that is that all Egypt's political, economical and military resources will be at Syria's disposal in her battle, our own battle of Arab nationalism."

Soviet Censure Demanded

Hungarian Repression Denounced

Resolution Backed By 36 U.N. Members

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—The United States and 35 other nations tonight called on the U.N. to condemn Russia for depriving Hungary of liberty and political independence.

The request was in a resolution submitted on the eve of the 81-nation special assembly on Hungary.

The resolution asked also that Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, Assembly president, be named special representative on the Hungarian problem.

He would be empowered to take steps he deems appropriate to see that previous U.N. resolutions on Hungary, including demands for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungarian soil, are carried out.

The resolution endorses the report of the five-nation inquiry committee on Hungary. On the basis of the committee's findings, the resolution draws up a scathing indictment of the Soviet Union and the present Hungarian regime of Premier Janos Kadar. Among the accusations:

1. The Soviet Union in violation of the U.N. charter has deprived Hungary of its freedom and its people from exercising fundamental human rights.

2. The Kadar regime was imposed on the Hungarian people by armed intervention of the Soviet Union.

3. The Soviet Union has carried out mass deportations of Hungarian citizens to Russia.

The resolution calls on the Soviet Union and the Kadar regime to desist from repressive measures against the Hungarian people and to return deportees to Hungary.

The countries sponsoring the resolution in addition to the United States are Argentina, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, France, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Liberia, Luxembourg, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Pakistan, Panama, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, Venezuela and Britain.

Nasser Vows Unconditional Syria Support

CAIRO, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Nasser vowed today Egypt will stand by Syria "to the very end, unconditionally." He accused the United States of fabricating a Communist threat in Syria in order to destroy Arab unity and take the pressure off Israel.

It was the Egyptian president's first public statement on Syria since leftist officers took over the Syrian army in mid-August. Nasser denied his closest Middle East ally had fallen to the Communists. His statement could be taken to mean that Nasser believes conservative, such as President Shukri Kuwaty, still have influence on Syrian affairs.

The takeover of the army by leftist officers and the signing of trade agreements with the Soviet Union have brought about fears in the West that Syria is on the verge of becoming a Soviet outpost.

Nasser said Egypt's policy toward Syria is not changed by the recent events there. "I wish to reaffirm," he said, "that Egypt will stand by Syria to the very end, unconditionally. Whatever the developments are, and however much pressure is exerted on Syria, one thing must be understood, and that is that all Egypt's political, economical and military resources will be at Syria's disposal in her battle, our own battle of Arab nationalism."

Nasser's comments came in an interview with the editor of the Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram, Mohammed Hassan Heikal. He laid down what he said is the U.S. policy toward Syria, particularly, and the Middle East in general.

"The real aim of U.S. policy in regard to Syria is to relieve the pressure on Israel and turn the spotlight away to other areas," Nasser said. "In other words, Israel lives at the root of the current American campaign against Syria."

President Signs Historic Civil Rights Measure

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the civil rights bill today against a background of actual or threatened violence over school integration in Southern cities.

The President did not issue a statement along with his signing of the historic measure into law, apparently to avoid any chance of inflaming any disputes such as those in the Little Rock, Ark., area, Nashville, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala.

The civil rights bill—first of its kind to be passed by Congress since post-Civil War days—is mainly designed to protect voting rights. But in some aspects it deals with discrimination against Negroes and other minority groups in general.

Only two presidential aides, along with news photographers, were present as Eisenhower signed the bitterly contested measure in his vacation office at the Newport naval station.

The bill's chief—and most hotly contested—section empowers the federal government to protect the rights of all qualified voters to cast ballots.

Boy, 15, Sentenced To Chair For Slaying

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9 (AP)—Isaiah (Duce) Green, 15, one of three boys who pleaded guilty to murdering a North Philadelphia druggist, today was sentenced to death in the electric chair.

His two accomplices in the July killing, Edwin (Heavy) Walker, 14, and James (Smiley) Crowson, 15, were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Green fainted when Judge Byron A. Milner, sitting with two other judges, passed sentence. One of the other judges, L. Stauffer Oliver, said any sentence "less than death for Isaiah Green be grossly inadequate."

Wrong To Condemn Russia, Nehru Says

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today condemnation of Russia for suppressing the Hungarian revolt would only make the situation worse.

He told Parliament during a foreign policy debate that the use of Soviet troops to put down the revolt was "one of the biggest tragedies in recent years." But it would be wrong to condemn Russia, Nehru added.

"I believe that in Eastern Europe all kinds of forces have been at play—liberalizing forces, democratizing forces. If helped a little they would go further," Nehru said.

U.S. 'Provocations' Charged By Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, Sept. 9 (AP)—A Syrian army spokesman charged five U.S. warships provocatively approached Syria's coast yesterday and two unidentified jet fighters flew high over the port of Latakia today.

In Washington, a Navy spokesman said "no U.S. Navy ships have been operating in the immediate vicinity of the Syrian coast."

He reported the bulk of the U.S. 6th Fleet is now in the Aegean Sea, between Greece and Turkey and hundreds of miles from Syria.

Some U.S. destroyers may have been cruising in the eastern Mediterranean in recent days, he said, but none have been within sight of the Syrian coast.

The Syrian spokesman said the Syrian Army is "firmly determined to resist . . . by cold nerves" any American provocations.

"No sooner was the Dulles statement on Syria announced," the spokesman said, "than provocative irritative operations were begun with the aim of stirring Syria into taking such measures as to be used as a pretext to launch aggression against her."

"Five U.S. warships yesterday approached the Syrian coast in a way that constitutes an open challenge and violates international protocol."

"Furthermore, two unidentified jet fighter planes today flew at an extremely high altitude over Latakia port."

"What we want from announcing these provocations is to acquaint world public opinion with the means used by imperialism to infringe on the sovereignty of a free United Nations member country and force her to abandon her freedom."

"The Syrian army of the people's government is firmly determined to resist these provocations by cold nerves."

Asked whether Syria had protested to Washington, the spokesman said: "So far, no."

Judge Asks Injunctive Proceedings

Governor Reveals Report Of Plot To Assassinate Him

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 9 (AP)—U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies today ordered injunctive proceedings against Gov. Orval Faubus at the climax of a day which saw the first outburst of violence in the Arkansas integration process.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the department would "comply as soon as possible," possibly tomorrow.

Davies' directive also specified that Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, head of the Arkansas National Guard, and Lt. Col. Marion E. Johnson also be named as defendants. Johnson commands the troops which surround Central High School and have forcibly prevented nine Negro students from attending classes.

Davies' order asked federal attorneys to file a petition for an injunction to prevent interference with court-ordered integration in Little Rock. A judge cannot draw up a petition but may impose an injunction once the petition is presented.

At neighboring North Little Rock, a separate city not involved in the judge's order, white students shoved and jostled six Negroes trying to enter the previously all-white high school.

The North Little Rock School Board meantime announced it was standing firm on its intention to postpone integration indefinitely.

Faubus Parries Questions
The governor at a press conference tonight parried numerous questions about the effect of the injunctive proceedings.

"I have not yet received official notice and it will be a very important legal question," Faubus said. "I'd like to see the official notice to see just what it involves."

Asked whether federal marshals would be allowed through the gates of the mansion guarded by National Guardsmen to serve a summons, Faubus said the guards could forcibly prevent entry of any unauthorized person.

Faubus said he had been advised of a plot to assassinate him. The plot originated in a northern city, he said. The purported city was not disclosed.

"Last night some friends of ours got a call from a northern city and said . . . a certain group was taking off for the purpose of bumping me off," the governor said.

Davies' order told the attorneys to bring action immediately against Faubus, who has kept armed National Guardsmen at Central High School for a week to prevent Negroes from attending the school.

Order Directed To Brownell
The order was directed to U.S. Atty. Gen. Brownell and U.S. Atty. Osro Cobb of Little Rock.

Davies three times before had ordered the Little Rock school board to proceed with its plan of limited, gradual integration.

Today his brief order said that the court had received a report from the U.S. attorney that Negro students were not being permitted to attend Little Rock Central High in accordance with the integration plan which had been approved by another district judge and by a U.S. Appeals Court.

He directed the attorney general and the district attorney to intervene in the suit which resulted in approval of the integration proposal and then made the order directing the petition against Faubus and his associates, "seeking such injunctive and other reliefs may be appropriate to prevent existing interference with the carrying out of orders heretofore entered in this case."

Faubus was not immediately available for comment.

At North Little Rock shouting, fist-clenched students defied their own school superintendent when he tried to escort the six Negro pupils into the high school after they first were repulsed.

Faubus Agrees To Mediation
Shortly thereafter, Gov. Faubus declared that if federal authorities try to undermine his police powers by force or other means, "then we will have lost our last right of local self government."

Two hours later, Faubus announced that he has accepted a proposal to put the integration dispute in the hands of a bi-partisan committee of five governors for study.

U.S. Begins Airlift Of Arms To Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan, Sept. 9 (AP)—U.S. Globemasters and Flying Boxcars began an airlift of arms to Jordan today to buttress the Arab kingdom against any threat from Syria's leftist-commanded army.

Dramatizing the concern reported in Washington to be felt by Syria's neighbors at last month's coup in the Syrian army by pro-Soviet officers, eight big U.S. Air Force planes landed with full bellies of jeeps, tank-killer rifles, machine guns and ammunition. Still more U.S. arms are being rushed to Iraq, Turkey, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia. France also is getting in the act. She has sent some tanks to Lebanon. The Soviet Union is swamping the arsenals of Egypt, Syria and even Yemen with Communist-bloc materiel.

Arabs, watching this feverish arms race in the Middle East, are rejoicing—but not necessarily about using this war goods against brother Arabs.

"At long last we are getting the guns we need to defend ourselves against Israel," said one highly placed Arab nationalist in Lebanon.

"Those arms," said another, will never be used by one Arab against another.

At the moment the Arab countries are split into two camps—Egypt, Syria and Yemen who have turned to the Soviet bloc; and Jordan, Iraq, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia who feared Soviet penetration and turned to the West.

State Of Emergency

TUNIS, Tunisia, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba declared a state of emergency today in five provinces bordering on Algeria.

French authorities have acknowledged that five Tunisians were killed by French troops tracking down a rebel group in the territory of this former French protectorate.

Stassen Sees Eventual Arms Control Pact

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—An optimistic Harold E. Stassen reported to Secretary of State Dulles today on the West's vain 5½ month effort to reach a disarmament agreement with Russia.

"The day will come when we reach agreement," Stassen predicted to reporters who met him at National Airport upon his return from London, the site of the disarmament talks.

He said the next move must be made by the Russians. And he added:

"If they would agree to stop the production of fissionable materials for weapons uses, than I believe we could move on to a first step agreement. This was the major point (of disagreement)."

"Remember that neither side stepped back in the London talks. It is not that I am optimistic, but that I am realistic. The world knows—that a war would be a great loss."

Stassen rejected a reporter's suggestion that only a summit conference, bringing together President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and the heads of the British and French states, could break the deadlock reached at the London meeting of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee.

"No, the question goes now to the full U.N. Disarmament Committee in New York," Stassen replied. "That is the agreement."

Median Family Income Rises

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Half of all American families had a total income of $4,782 or more during 1956, an increase of 8 per cent over 1955, the government reported today.

The Census Bureau said its figures were based on a median—or numerical middle—rather than an average. In other words, half the families in the United States made more than $4,783 and the other half made less. No true average could be determined since exact figures were not asked of families reporting total income of $15,000 or more.

The median for city dwellers moved up over the year from $4,840 to $5,221. For rural non-farmers it jumped from $4,328 to $4,619 and for farmers it moved from $2,111 to $2,371.

Cuban Naval Leader Ousted

HAVANA, Sept. 9 (AP)—The government moved fast today to head off any further rebellion in Cuba's naval forces.

It booted out the commander of the Southern Naval District at battle-scarred Cienfuegos, pushed an armed forces loyalty check and started rounding up dissident sailors aboard warships and ashore.

The Cienfuegos commander, Col. Roberto Comesanas, and an aide, Cmdr. Sopo Barreto, were ordered before the Navy General Staff in Havana to explain the participation of 150 sailors of that base in last week's bloody insurrection.

Comesanas was replaced immediately by Col. Arsenio Arzola. The Cuban Navy rank of colonel corresponds to captain of frigate.

Judge Asks

"The plan has great possibilities," Faubus said, "not only for our specific case but also for the problem in general."

Furcolo disclosed in Boston that he had consulted by telephone with Govs. Thomas B. Stanley (D) of Virginia, and William G. Stratton (R) of Illinois, and presidential assistant Sherman Adams in Washington.

Tawes Protests "Federal Discrimination" Against Maryland

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—Comptroller J. Millard Tawes protested to President Eisenhower today "against a growing tendency of the National government to discriminate against our State," Tawes wrote. Copies of his letter, dated Sept. 6, were not released until tonight, it was ex-

The state's top financial officer said in a letter that recently announced plans for curtailment of federal activities in Maryland would cost the State at least 125 million dollars a year.

He mentioned proposals to end naval recruit training at Bainbridge, transfer of Air Research and Development Command headquarters from Baltimore to Andrews Field, and to build an auxiliary national airport at Burke, Va., instead of using facilities at Friendship International Airport between Baltimore and Washington.

Tawes also noted that the civilian staff at Aberdeen Proving Ground had been "substantially reduced," the Army Ordnance Department is closing facilities at Aberdeen, Edgewood and Curtis Bay, and the Navy has proposed to close its shipbuilding supervisor's office at Baltimore.

Tawes, candidate for the 1958 Democratic nomination for governor, said he was writing as comptroller of the state.

No Motive Found For Cross Burnings

FERNDALE, Md., Sept. 9 (AP)—No motive has been established for the burning of three crosses early yesterday in a Negro community in northern Anne Arundel County.

A cross also was burned at Oxon Hill in Prince Georges County, and police said they knew of no reason for that incident either.

Anne Arundel police continued investigating the burning of crosses in front of three homes on Belle Grove Road in Patapsco Park, near Linthicum.

Police said the houses were apparently selected at random. There were no children from any of the homes attending a white school.

Leniency Indicated For Defiant Student

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The State Department said today it will stamp good for return home only on the passport of an American student who went to Red China and was expelled.

However, the department indicated that Shelby Tucker, 22-year old student from Pass Christian, Miss., will be permitted to continue his studies at Oxford University in England.

Tucker was one of 42 young Americans who defied a State Department ban on going into China. He refused to surrender his passport in Peiping, however, and the Chinese Reds forced him to return to Moscow.

State Force Against Delinquency Urged

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 9 (AP)—The marshaling of every community agency and individual who has any contact with young people into a fighting preventive force was the concern today of 400 delegates to the third annual Governor's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency.

Gov. McKeldin, who set the ball rolling in 1955 with appointment of the Maryland Commission for the Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency, sounded the keynote of the three-day meeting which opened today.

The time for widespread state and community action is now, he said before "the fever of juvenile delinquency can rise, as it has risen, to stages of desperate cruelty, sadism and cold-blooded murder."

"We have received dire warnings... written in blood on the streets of New York and Buffalo... that clinical analysis of the problem is not enough," McKeldin said.

Those warnings tell us that this disease, unchecked by constructive and effect adult interest, can go far beyond the well-known symptoms of gang battles, car thefts, petty burglaries and other such activities that so distress the communities and occupy much of the time of officers of the law," McKeldin said the warnings are directed first of all to intelligent youth itself—"to the young, would-be adventurers in one of the early acts in the broad field of delinquency... the boy or girl who lacks the courage to refuse to stay with the gang that is bent on burglary or a robbery."

The warning is directed to parents, the governor said, "directed against the lack of concern for the children's nightly whereabouts and nightly activities—directed against the pleasure-seeking of parents which leaves little time for guidance of the young. . . ."

The governor said the warning also is directed to our communities "for it is all too true that some parents will refuse to heed the warning; some are incapable of grasping its awful meaning."

Lincoln Daniels, chief of the community services branch of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Juvenile Delinquency Division, also stressed the need for rallying community forces.

Fourteen recommendations for action to prevent or treat juvenile delinquency grew out of that conference and are the bulk of a report presented to the governor last week.

Six of those recommendations with statewide implications call for:

1. Organizing local youth commissions in every county of the state.
2. Obtaining and holding adequately trained personnel in jobs dealing with children.
3. Obtaining adequate mental and physical health services.
4. Providing counseling services to families and children who have problems.
5. Establishing special juvenile officers or bureaus in police departments.
6. Developing adequate detention facilities for the state so that children are not held in jails or training schools.

Historic Flag Flies Over Maine Capitol

AUGUSTA, Maine, Sept. 9 (AP)—A United States flag owned by a past Grand Chief de Gare of the Maryland 40 & 8 flew briefly today over the Maine State House.

J. Lewin Burris of Kennebunk, Md., had written earlier for permission. He arrived today with his flag, presented to him when he stepped down as chief of the American Legion fun making organization in his state.

He said the flag has flown over the U.S. Capitol, Fort McHenry, Independence Hall, at the Statue of Liberty, at George Washington's tomb and over capitols of Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. He hopes to have it flown over all the nation's principal patriotic shrines and state capitols.

Change-Over Slows Baltimore Traffic

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—Traffic slowed to a crawl in Baltimore today during a change-over to a signal system designed to speed traffic flow.

Henry A. Barnes, commissioner of transit and traffic, said he "expected a little chaos" during the changeover but rain and heavy Monday morning traffic also contributed to the snarlup today.

Signals in the midtown area re being converted from a fixed-cycle system to a new system which regulates signals according to traffic demands.

314 Md. Traffic Law Violators To Be Warned

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—More than 300 Maryland car owners are to get letters from the Department of Motor Vehicles saying they or someone driving their cars broke traffic laws over the Labor Day weekend.

The department sent out 50 of its employees on a cruising patrol during the holiday weekend to look for violators. They took down the license number of 314 Maryland autos.

The infractions will not be placed on driving records, Motor Vehicles Commissioner James B. Monroe said that owners will be sent warning letters informing them of the time, place and date of the violations.

Monroe said the reports indicated out-of-state drivers were responsible for most of the bad driving. No record was made of these violations.

The department's spotters had orders not to stop cars or discuss violations with drivers, only to note the license numbers.

Monroe said "license reviewers will be instructed to take particular note in the future of violations which predominated over the Labor Day week end in imposing suspensions and revocations."

Speeding topped the list. The DMV patrol reported 196 speed-law violations during the three days the survey was conducted.

The patrols said they saw 37 instances of improper passing, 15 of reckless driving, nine of failing to give right-of-way and seven of failing to keep to right of center. There were six instances of drivers going too slow.

Others concerned failing to signal, making improper turns, license display violations, driving wrong way on one-way street, following too close, illegal parking and tail light violations.

Contact lenses were developed in Germany.

Reptile Lodged In Baltimore Jail

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—A vagrant reclined in a corner of Cell No. 2 at Northwestern Police Station today.

Every now and then he emitted a hiss. Turnkeys gave him a wide berth.

Police picked him up yesterday for loitering on a street corner.

They believe the 4-foot-long black snake was dropped from a passing car. If no one claims the reptile, the Baltimore Zoo has dibs.

Bids Due Soon On Road Job

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—About five miles of the Annapolis-Washington Expressway remains to be constructed and bidding has been tentatively set for October on parts of this work, the State Roads Commission said today.

The dual highway, U.S. 50, is now completed from Annapolis to the Enterprise Road, a distance of about 14 miles.

From the Enterprise Road west to Maryland 704 (the George Palmer Highway) is about 90 per cent completed and has been opened to traffic, the SRC said.

The remaining five miles from Maryland 704 to the District of Columbia Line is covered in about seven or eight proposed contracts, several of which have been tentatively scheduled for bidding in October, a commission spokesman said.

The work calls for eight bridges and several interchanges. The Roads commission spokesman said he did not know whether the work would be advertised under one contract or several or just when bids would be asked.

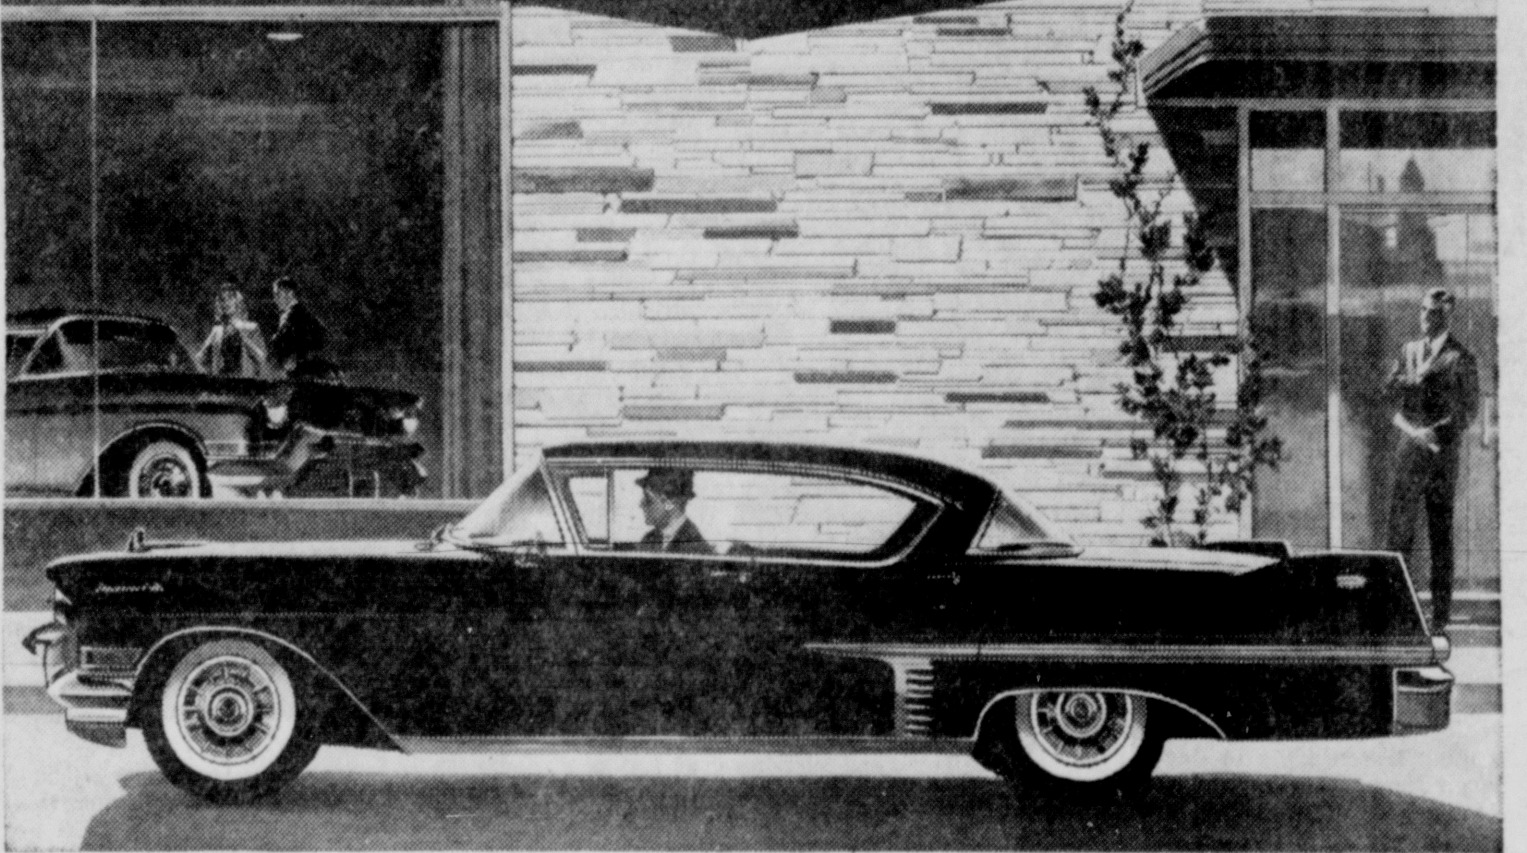

Temporary improvements have been made to the 5-mile stretch under a December, 1956, authorization, the SRC spokesman added.

New Zealanders eat more than twice as much butter as Americans do.

Sweepy, the squirrel is the mascot of the Governor's committee to keep Maryland beautiful. He scolds us about the tremendous waste of tax dollars spent to clean up the litter left by careless citizens on highways, beaches, and in parks and public places. Sweepy says, "Don't be a litterbug. Throw trash in the proper receptacles and help keep Maryland beautiful." There is no recoil, as in a gun, when a rocket is fired.

Africa's mousebird is so named because of its habit of creeping rather than hopping along the branch of a tree. It is slightly larger than a sparrow.

Misses Pritchard Will Attend BPW Conference

Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard and Miss Gerardine Pritchard will represent the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club at the Northeast Regional Conference, which will be held at Lido Beach, Long Island, September 12-15. A record attendance is anticipated from the eleven states which comprise the Northeast Region.

Program plans, as announced by Regional Director Miss Esther Corwin of Newfane, New York, include workshop sessions and demonstrations, business sessions, election of officers for the ensuing two years, and social activities which include a reception for a group of women from the Pan Pacific Union. The hostess clubs from New York State have arranged several entertainment features for the weekend.

Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, first vice president of the Maryland Federation, will serve as the chairman of the resolutions committee at the conference. Others on her committee are Mrs. Hannah Squires, Connecticut; Mrs. Mildred N. Whitley, Pennsylvania; Mrs. David Knipes, Vermont; and Mrs. Marguerite Carter, Maine.

Miss Gerardine Pritchard, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Maryland Federation, will participate in a public affairs workshop Friday afternoon. Judge Libby E. Sacher, New Jersey, national chairman, will use "Responsibility to Government Through Leadership" as the subject for the workshop.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Texas, will be the featured guest at the Regional. Judge Hughes is a past president of the National Federation, and is first vice president of the International Federation. In 1952, Judge Hughes made national headlines when her name was offered at the Democratic National Convention as a potential candidate for the Vice Presidency.

In addition to Judge Hughes, the National Federation's first vice president, Miss Grace Daniels of Pennsylvania, and the national chairman of finance, health and safety, international relations, and public affairs committees will be in attendance. Workshops will be conducted by these experts in their respective fields.

Other members of the Maryland Federation who will attend the Northeast Regional Conference will be the state president, Miss Margaret Bowers of Millington, who is a candidate for office; Mrs. Lois Thompson of Silver Spring, who will assist with the finance workshop; and Mrs. Mayme Davis of Baltimore, who is a member of the nominating committee.

The Business and Professional Women's Clubs are organized on a local, state, national, and international basis. Mrs. Kathleen Burke is president of the Cumberland club. Nationally, there are over 170,000 members, dedicated to a program of promoting the interests of working women and elevating the standards for business and professional women everywhere.

Jayncees To Elect Officers

Officers and board members of the Jayncees held a card party for the organization a recent evening at the home of Mrs. William M. Wilson, president, 611 National Highway.

Over twenty members attended. Mrs. William S. Firey, Mrs. Charles Dressman and Mrs. Roy Baldwin were prize winners in the beginners bridge group; and Mrs. Robert A. Mathews, Mrs. Arthur S. Davis Jr. and Mrs. Henry Sauer, winners in the advanced group.

Assisting Mrs. Wilson were Mrs. Leonard Schwab, Mrs. Edward F. Mullan Jr., Mrs. Firey, Mrs. Davis Jr., Mrs. Raymond C. Dorn and Mrs. Earl D. Shank.

The group will have its annual dinner Wednesday at the Cumberland Country Club when officers will be elected and installed. Mrs. Dorn is chairman of the nominating committee. A complete report of the year's activities of the club will be given.

A PENNY SAVED IS A PENNY EARNED

This famous adage is just as true today as it was when first formulated. We are all having trouble making those dollars stretch these days, so it is necessary to save money where we can. Thus, when sudden illness strikes and unexpected doctor and medicine bills appear, it can be a real jolt to the family budget. We think you are in for a big surprise at how low medicine bills can be if you have never had a Walsh-McCagh prescription. There is no secret behind our extra low prescription prices. It is the low overhead, quantity buying, and rapid turnover that the chain grocery stores have made such a great success. Our prices are set in advance, so that we can as easily tell you the price of your prescription before it is filled as afterwards, and we like to do it that way. Why not bring us your next prescription; you can pay more, but you can't receive better prescription service anywhere.

South End Businessmen Elect Today

Members of the South Cumberland Business Men's Association will elect three directors at the annual dinner meeting today at 6 p.m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Nominated are Earl Chaney, Webster Edwards, George Holler, James H. Garland, Henry Herold, Raymond Lapp, John Snyder and George Warner.

Holdover members of the board are Dr. Blair Stump, Harry Wilson and Wesley Taylor. A replacement for A. L. Beckman who resigned as director will be appointed later.

Principal speaker will be Win Pendleton, a newspaperman and public relations consultant of Washington, D. C. He writes the "Washington See-Saw" column which appears in more than 100 newspapers. Although Capitol Hill is his "beat," he is chiefly interested in the lighter side of political news.

During the 1950 campaign he traveled with Vice President Alben Barkley on his 34-day air tour throughout the country.

Pendleton is widely known as an after dinner speaker. At one time during World War II he was in charge of the speakers bureau for the U. S. Army in London.

Council Approves Changes For Offices In City Hall

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved two jobs changes affecting secretaries in the Street Department and Civil Service Commission office.

Mrs. Joy T. Oliver, who has been secretary in the Street Department office, was appointed temporary secretary in the city clerk's office pending an examination to create and qualify the position under Civil Service. The salary for the position is $290.50 a month. Her salary formerly was $265.

Mrs. Edna C. Powers, who has been in the Civil Service Commission office, was appointed stenographer in the Street Department at $265 a month effective September 9. Mrs. Powers has been employed on a part-time basis at the rate of $212 a month, and goes on a fulltime basis.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long said he had no objection to the candidates but said in the interest of economy he must vote against the appointments. He said the money necessary to change an employee from a part-time to full time employee could be used elsewhere and referred to several problems, including possible wage increases, which must be met.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson also raised the question that no provision had been made for the salaries for a year, pointing out that such moves require changes in appropriations.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, who signed the orders, said he planned to take care of the appropriations transfer in a later order. He added, however, this cannot be done until after the first of the year.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan told council that at one time, one woman did all the work for council "and now we have three." He added he did not know what the answer is.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said he suggested the change because he felt the one taking minutes of council sessions should be connected with his office. He is also secretary to the Civil Service Commission.

Council also approved several other appointments and accepted a resignation yesterday.

Appointed were: Patrick J. Murphy and Roscoe L. Lantz as clerk in the office of the tax collector at a salary of $212 a month until an eligible list is established.

William Lewis Shinholt resigned as a probationary officer effective September 8 to accept a "better job" at Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

This prompted Commissioner Keegan to comment: "It's not a better job, just better pay."

13 Motorists Fined More Than $180

Thirteen motorists paid fines totaling more than $180 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court. The cases were tried by Magistrate Donald W. Mason and included one motorist who was committed to the Allegany County Jail for 55 days in default of fines totaling $126.45 on two motor vehicle violations.

Civic Group Meets Friday

The Community Council will meet Friday at 8 p.m. in the Allegany County Historical House to consider the extension of its activities calendar.

The group will also further its aims to act as a clearing house and coordination council for area organizations.

Robert Mathews, president, said also scheduled is the election of a secretary-treasurer to replace Miss Kay Avers, who resigned last month.

The first of the council's activities calendars was compiled last week. It was developed as a service to organizations of the area, its chief purpose being to prevent conflicts in the scheduling of activities and projects.

Information included on the calendar is sponsoring organization, date and time, and if necessary, character of the project and anticipated attendance. Regular meeting dates of member organizations are listed, as well as local football games.

Mathews said all area organizations have been invited to list projects on this calendar, and to apply for inclusion on the mailing list. Contact chairmen are Mrs. Arthur Davis Jr., PA 4-0668, and Mrs. Theos A. Angelus, at PA 2-6941.

Soroptimists Seek Amateur Talent

An audition for amateur talent from the Tri-State area will be held at 7 p. m. Wednesday, September 18, at Seifert's Furniture Store, North Centre Street, sponsored by the Soroptimist Club of Cumberland.

The purpose of the audition, spokesmen for the club explain, is to select a series of acts and presentation for a floor show at the club's annual benefit dance, "Indian Summer," at Ali Ghan Country Club, October 11.

Individuals or groups interested in this talent competition are asked to limit their acts or presentations to three minutes, to bring their own music and their own accompanist to the auditions.

Awards will be presented to those accepted for the performance and additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Faye Stillwagon, 118 Greene Street.

PSC Swamped With Letters On Phone Rates

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Maryland Public Service Commission reported today it has been swamped with communications from telephone users favoring or disapproving higher rates proposed by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

The 537 persons contacting the PSC to date, either by letter or petition, have been almost equally divided on either side of the question.

Of the total, 246 individuals have expressed themselves as approving the company's plan for higher rates but wider calling privileges and 291 have voiced opposition.

Persons living outside Baltimore City have outnumbered local residents, 488 to 49, a PSC spokesman said.

The company's proposed rate schedule would add from 65 to 85 cents to monthly residential service bills. It would allow calls at local rates to many places which now involve an extra charge.

The PSC said the communications started coming in shortly after the company filed its petition Aug. 16, asking that the new rates become effective Sept. 16.

Last week, People's Counsel Wilfred T. McQuaid and Baltimore City Assistant City Solicitor Hugo Ricciuti opposed the $6,855,000 net rate increase. They asked the commission to at least postpone it 120 days to allow further time for study.

Reading Fair Under Way With Top Billings

Boone, Lone Ranger, Mills Brothers On Stellar Program

READING, Pa. — Officials of the Reading Fair, which opened yesterday and will continue through Sunday afternoon announced that for the first time in history a grandstand stage show will be presented twice in one night.

Popular singer Pat Boone will headline tonight's bill, which also will feature Lillian Briggs, rock 'n' roll stage and recording artist. Fair officials said the first show is a sellout and a second show will be presented at approximately 10 p. m.

The Tuesday night attraction is one of only three shows for which reserved seats are being sold under a new entertainment format at the fair this year. The other two are the Miss Reading Fair beauty contest on Saturday night and the USAC Big Car auto races on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Briggs, a woman truck driver who once had an ambition to be a psychiatrist but turned to rock 'n' roll and the trombone because "I can't stand still," will also headline the grandstand stage show on Friday night.

The fair has replaced the old system of a musical revue, repeated each night during the week, for the new program of different attractions each day in front of the grandstand.

Other attractions during the week include the Lone Ranger on Thursday afternoon and the Mills Brothers on Thursday night.

Sixty-nine young women from several eastern states are entered in the beauty contest which offers $1,000 to the winner. All judging in the contest will be held Saturday night as the feature grandstand attraction.

West Virginia Farm Crops Badly Hurt By Drought

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Farm crops are suffering severely from lack of soil moisture and many farmers are being forced into early feeding or into an early sale of their livestock, Commissioner of Agriculture John T. Johnson said yesterday. Pastures are burned badly and are furnishing very little forage. Many farmers are hauling water for their live stock since the streams have dried up. Although dry conditions are predominate, there are a few scattered areas that have had a good growing season.

Commissioner Johnson stated, "In traveling over the state farmers and persons interested in agriculture have discussed with me the possibility of obtaining government aid for drought distressed farmers. However, there has not been a large number of requests for such assistance. The Federal government has a program for rendering assistance to drought stricken areas, but the demand for such assistance must emanate from those in distress. If the demand is sufficient, this office stands ready to recommend to Governor Underwood that drought assistance be requested from President Eisenhower."

The drought relief program of the Federal government consists primarily of reimbursing the farmers for transportation on hay shipped into the state and also the government will make loans to farmers who are in distress, at a lower than normal interest charge. A similar program was in effect in 1953 at which time farmers only utilized approximately $90,000 out of $212,000 allocated to the state.

Requests filed with the USDA by the states of Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia, whose conditions apparently are more serious than West Virginia's have been denied the benefits of the disaster program by President Eisenhower.

Miners Hospital Gets Roster Of Town's Clergy

Ministers Named To Committees

FROSTBURG — A bulletin board, containing a complete roster of local ministers has been placed in the Miners Hospital lobby, it was announced at a meeting of the Frostburg Ministerial Association, held Monday afternoon at the Welsh Memorial Baptist Church.

Rev. Wesley Harris, pastor of the host church, led the devotions, and the business meeting which followed was in charge of Rev. Paul V. Taylor, president of the association.

A committee to formulate plans for the community Thanksgiving service was appointed by the chairman, consisting Rev. Edward A. Godsey, Rev. George L. Wehler and Rev. Ellwood Settle. This committee will submit their report at the October meeting.

Rev. William J. Yingling was the speaker of the meeting, and his talk concerned the role of a ministerium in a community.

"The role of a minister in a community such as ours is twofold," he stated. "First: he is the pastor of his congregation, and an ambassador of God speaking to the people. Sometimes it is neither easy nor popular to be God's ambassador. The pastor must speak, not necessarily what people may want to hear or what may be pleasing to the ear, but rather what God directs him to speak. In order to accomplish this, the pastor must have his own close personal communication and walk with God."

"Second, the minister, working in close cooperation with his fellow pastors in an organized ministerial association, also has a part to play through this group. The moral fibre of any community will be only as strong as its religious organizations are strong," he declared. "One of the responsibilities of a ministerial association, therefore, is to be the moral voice or 'conscience' of the community. It must insist on high moral standards for the citizens of the city, and should be ready to support all worthy community projects, be they educational, social, industrial, cultural, in fact in any area, providing that they are in keeping with Christian principles and are for the good of the community, and not in the interest of the selfish few," he concluded.

As a result of this discussion, a community relations committee was appointed by President Taylor, consisting of Rev. Yingling, Rev. Martin Davidson and Rev. Wesley Harris. This committee is to study ways and means of making the association's activities more in keeping with the needs and problems which the community faces.

Following the discussion, refreshments were served by the host pastor, and the October meeting date was announced as October 14, with the meeting being held at the First English Baptist Church, East Main Street. Rev. E. Elwood Settle will be the host pastor.

Settlement In Old Claim Against City Hits Snag

Settlement of the Stephen Freno damage claims as a result of the Frederick Street improvement project went through another round yesterday.

The Mayor and Council spurned the latest move to settle the matter and asked that an order introduced be rewritten after Auditor Arthur B. Gibson claimed the city would be left open to "unlimited liability" and that the exact figures should be spelled out.

"It seems to me," Gibson said, "that council should establish value in the whole thing before entering into an agreement." He added he felt some of the damages belong to the insurance company.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out the insurance company would allow only $100 toward cost of shrubbery and the like. Gibson replied that the city therefore, should not enter into an agreement since it places a responsibility which can never be closed out in regards to repairs to grading and shrubbery. He said if the insurance company is giving $100 then he felt the city would be fair in giving $1,000.

Freno's attorney, Peter J. Carpentieri, said other property owners' claims had been adjusted and Freno's is the only one remaining. He claimed the city has a legal responsibility since it furnished specifications to the contractor.

Carpentieri, at the request of Finan, said he would be willing to state that $150 would cover the cost of grading, shrubbery and replacement of back steps to the Freno property and then he added he was tired of the matter being dragged out. If nothing is done, then the only recourse is legal action, he continued. He also stated Freno had previously backed down on his original demands in order to reach a settlement.

Also in question is a sidewalk. The cost of this is not included in the agreement submitted yesterday which created another question as far as Gibson is concerned. It was pointed out other property owners paid half the sidewalk cost or $1.57 1/2 cents a lineal foot.

Under the order submitted yesterday, the city would have paid Freno $1,002.62, completed the sidewalk on the Frederick Street side, repaired rear steps and graded the rear of the lot. Freno in return would have given a complete release from any future liability.

The order stated it was understood Freno would pay the lien for curbing, guttering and paving the sidewalk in the amount of $469.74, plus interest.

Today's hand seems rather commonplace, but it produced an interesting variety of results in a recent tournament.

At one table, it was played at one no trump after the above bidding sequence. Declarer scored nine tricks, and North chided his partner for failing to rebid the spades. Yet the loss of the game falls squarely on North's shoulders. He found himself faced with an impossible rebid problem. His actual choice, one no trump, describes a hand of 13 to 15 high card point strength. He was too strong for that bid and too weak for a jump to two no trump.

The error may be traced to the opening bid. With 17 points and a balanced hand, North's proper call was one no trump.

At some tables, after the one no trump opening, South, holding seven points and a five card suit, chose to raise to two no trump despite the single heart. North went on to three, a contract which he fulfilled when the defense could run but three heart tricks.

City Working For Deed To Hospital Land

The city is taking steps preparatory to deeding to Memorial Hospital land the hospital needs in order to receive a Ford Foundation grant which will be used for expanding a section of the institution.

Under an order passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan is authorized to prepare a charter amendment or whatever legal papers are necessary to convey to the hospital title to the land on which the contagious disease unit stands.

The city plans to work out a "reversion" clause. The hospital, in a letter to council last week, pointed out the land could not be disposed of without written consent of council.

Memorial is eligible for a grant of $120,000 and plans to use funds to add two stories to the contagious disease unit. In order to receive the money for such a project, it must have title to the property.

The contagious disease unit was constructed in 1949 at a cost of $157,245 of which the city and county contributed $90,000 and the federal government the remainder.

Should requirements be met and funds obtained, the X-ray department would be located on the second floor and laboratory department on the third floor. Both, in the present main building, are inadequate, according to Charles A. Piper, chairman of the Board of Governors, and John A. Moberly, superintendent.

The space occupied at present by X-ray would be for added office and lobby area; and the present laboratory area would be converted into a recovery suite for post-operative patients.

Members of council individually expressed the opinion that every possible effort should be made to meet requirements and obtain the Ford Foundation grant.

Trucks To Be Re-Routed Around Center Of City

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday that in the future trucks without a downtown designation will be re-routed.

The commissioner spoke out after council received official notification that Celanese Corporation of America is re-routing its trucks during construction of the new Baltimore Street bridge. Public announcement of the move was hailed by Keegan several days ago.

The police commissioner also said the department is attempting to meet complaints of noise caused by trucks re-routed into residential areas. Wherever possible, trucks are to be routed around the city and off city streets, he said.

Keegan also announced an agreement with Cumberland Transit Lines to allow two buses an hour to cross the temporary Baltimore Street bridge. The buses' destination are Greene Street and Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

The department is making the move, he said, to cooperate with the transit line which "needs the business" and to provide better bus service for residents of the Greene Street area.

While the Army Engineers have requested that heavy vehicles be kept off the temporary span, Keegan said it has never been a question of weight of the vehicles. Rather, he added, it has been a question of width of the bridge and the ability of the heavier vehicles to make the turns on and off the structure.

Philadelphia's New 'No-Fix' Tickets

In Philadelphia it is no longer possible to fix a traffic ticket. At least that's what it says in the papers. Philadelphians find it hard to believe. If the new no-fix traffic court really works, it will not be because all Philadelphia office-holders are above that sort of thing. Political henchmen are firmly convinced that a political machine cannot be maintained without doing favors for its friends.

So the problem was attacked from the other end—setting up a system so foolproof that it would be impossible to fix tickets and not get caught at it. A new form of ticket has been devised, with copies of each one going to several agencies so that none of them can fix a ticket without the knowledge of the others. As long as even one of them is honest, it may work.

But Edgar Allan Poe used to say that there is no problem human ingenuity can devise that human ingenuity cannot solve. This isn't absolutely true, but it comes close to being true where "practical" politics is concerned.

If the men who want to stop ticket-fixing grow complacent and take it for granted that the new system will work, somebody, some time, will find a way to beat it. But if it is administered with vigilance, eventually all concerned may get to the point where they do not even think of trying to fix tickets any more.

For, despite the cynical things said about the operations of practical politics, the world does get better. Not fast, not all at once, not everywhere—but slowly.

These Days

Hollywood's Troubles

The "Confidential" trial creates no new atmosphere in Hollywood; publicity men have long attracted attention to the peccadilloes of their clients to make them increasingly attractive to customers who prefer their celebrities to be wicked. Or so they, the publicity men and their employers, believe.

When a volunteer group undertook to drive the Communists out of Hollywood, the management and various guilds of the motion picture profession fought back on the ground that art is unrelated to politics and that freedom of expression included motion pictures which is a commercial enterprise designed to earn money for those in the trade. Therefore when the protest against Communist infiltration into Hollywood became so serious that it could be counted at the boxoffice, some of management agreed to a process of cleaning out the stable.

Unfortunately many in management were swindlers. They secretly employed the Communists under false names. They subsidized foreign movies where the American Communists found work under assumed names. They convinced some of the opportunists to swear repentance, knowing that not a word of it was true. In the end, the Communists won the battle and they are back on the job in Hollywood, and in television, building their party's treasury out of the money paid by their opponents. It is an amazing picture of persistence and cooperation.

Meanwhile, the industry is generally speaking in an unfortunate financial situation, largely due to television and to the inability of young people to pay the box office price for trivial, unexciting pictures.

"Confidential" was involved in a libel suit and the trial has been more ugly than anything that appeared in that unpalatable magazine. It has been both a shameful and a shameless performance and does raise the question as to whether the "celebrities" are worthy heroes and heroines for the children of the nation who now see them not only in dark theaters but in the home where a wise kid, who is not a square, can recite a star's wickednesses and marriages, as in another century such a child could list the Presidents of the United States in order. When a hero looks, in real life, like a bum, and a heroine like a silly free-for-all, the kids are psychologically damaged.

Walter Kerr, drama critic of the New York Herald Tribune, issued a little book in 1956, entitled "Criticism and Censorship," in which he opposes censorship and pleads for unfettered art. Kerr is a Roman Catholic and in this book, speaks as such. He says:

"When the Catholic turns to criticism, then, he does not content himself with forming an aesthetic evaluation of the object at hand. He feels an additional obligation to make a guess—he hopes it will be an informed one—about the work's subsequent influence on the behavior of the reader. More than that. He tells the reader whether or not he ought to read it. He thus assumes, above and beyond his role as critic, the role of censor. He is, in effect, critic and censor rolled into one—and, at the last, it is in his role of censor that he hands down his verdict."

But am I, as a free man, to refrain from saying that I dislike a picture, a book, a play, a song for whatever reason I dislike them? It may be an aesthetic reason, in which case Kerr would say it could be criticism; but if the reason for dislike is moral, a rejection of the indecent, a denunciation of the false—then it is censorship. If so, we are all censors, for even in our conversations that is precisely what we do.

But He's Doing It

Poland And The Aftermath Of The Revolution

By Joseph Alsop

POZNAN, Poland

Here in this grimy industrial town in June a year ago occurred the great turning point for Poland which may also some day prove a great turning point for many other nations.

If one can fix the exact instant, it was at the beginning of the Poznan strikers' attack on the huge grey secret police headquarters.

The first burst of fire struck down a 15-year old boy with a Polish flag in his hand. As he fell six tanks appeared to overawe the crowd. But in that breathless instant another boy seized the flag from the gutter, dipped it in his dead comrade's blood, and with no other weapon charged the tanks alone.

For fifty yards and then a hundred he was still alone. Then five, then ten, then suddenly two hundred others joined him, all charging the tanks together behind the boy with his blood-stained flag. Quite suddenly, with a fearful grinding and cranking, the file of tanks turned backwards and fled before the charge.

No one knows the name of the young standard bearer who so marvelously proved the ultimate invincibility of the human spirit, but at the great Cegielski (formerly Stalin) steelworks they will tell you:

He was one of ours. He must have been. After all the whole thing started right here when the men in the railroad car shop downed tools that morning we began it.

With all this in mind it is a curious experience to visit these same Cegielski Works. Outwardly they seem the archetype of all the dark satanic mills in the world, being a huge complex of ancient brick factory buildings belching smoke from half a dozen chimneys and filling the whole neighborhood with the din of their machinery. But there is a vast transformation beneath the surface of this grim industrial scene.

The men who receive you, to begin with, are new men. The old plant director, a hard-nosed Communist with no technical qualifications, has gone. Now the new director, Witold Bernatovich, would have been disqualified for the top dog in the old days because of his wartime service in the famous Polish army of Gen. Wladyslaw Anders. But all that is over now and Bernatovich, a fine looking, intelligent, desperately earnest man with the fullest technical training, is firmly in charge at Cegielski.

The chief engineer, Sbginiew Lukomski, is new, too, and the plant has a new workers council with altogether new powers, close to those of a board of directors. Felix Nowacki, the elderly grey-moustached statistician who heads the workers council, looks like just what he is—an old-time Social Democrat with a good head on his shoulders.

The plant's young Communist Party organizer, Josef Biskupski, is there to receive the guest along with the others, but his presence imposes no shadow of constraint on the talk about the Cegielski Works' past, present and future.

In the discussion of the past the Communist Biskupski admits that he was "a bit shocked" by the strange, sudden, spontaneous movements—almost as purely instinctive as the hiving of bees—that took the Cegielski workers into Poznan's streets. But Nowacki and Lukomski frankly glory in the memory.

Biskupski hardly differs from the others, either, in his attitude towards the almost total change of atmosphere and habit reverting from the October triumph of Wladyslaw Gomulka. That was the sequel of the June rising in Poznan. The most poignant post-October recollection comes from old Nowacki. With his eyes sparkling with delight he describes how all the workers were allowed to destroy their own secret police dossiers which were kept in the plant's personnel department.

"Now," chimes in Biskupski approvingly, "we have a normal personnel department that con-

Army-Developed Jupiter Missile May Be Operated By Air Force

While Drew Pearson is touring the Mediterranean, his column is written by his junior partner.

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department may soon settle the bitter Army-Air Force missile feud by accepting the Army-developed Jupiter but turning it over to the Air Force to operate. This solution has been urged by the Army Ballistic Missile Agency which built the 1,500-mile Jupiter.

A formal announcement is expected by October from the special evaluation board which has been comparing the rival intermediate ballistic missiles.

Biggest hitch is what to do with the Air Force's Thor which Douglas Aircraft Company has already toolled up to produce. Secretary of Defense Wilson is worried how he'll explain to Congress why he authorized Douglas to install the expensive machinery, then changed his mind about producing the Thor.

Wilson would still like to take the best features from both missiles and combine them into one, over-all missile. Experts have warned, however, this would delay the program at least a year. Thor Has Fins

Both the Jupiter and Thor already use the same power plant, developed by the Air Force. The hulls are similar in design, except that the Thor has fins and the Jupiter does not. In guidance, the Jupiter is considered superior. It would be impossible to plug the Jupiter's guidance system into the Thor's controls, missiles men say, without lengthy new tests.

At least six Jupiters have been fired successfully, whereas all the Thor's tests have failed. The latest experimental Thor reached an altitude of 96,000 feet, then the motor broke loose.

Chrysler claims it can start mass-producing the Jupiter in four months. With Soviet missiles threatening on the other side of the Arctic, the evaluation board is in a hurry to settle the Jupiter-Thor controversy.

Washington Whispers

Fellow officers openly sympathized with Col. John Nickerson who was court-martialed for giving away secrets in a memo criticizing Secretary of Defense Wilson's missile policies. Yet only three officers showed up for a going-away party that attorney Robert Bell threw for Nickerson when he was banished to the Panama Canal Zone. Reason: Maj. Gen. John Medaris, Nickerson's commanding officer, ordered officers not to attend. . . . Rep. Jack Shelley (D., Calif.), the teamster Congressman, will open his fight in Seattle today for the Teamsters' presidency. If Shelley can line up the western conference behind him, he'll challenge strongman Jimmy Hoffa at the Teamsters' convention in Miami later this month. . . . Frank Brewster, the Teamsters' western chief, has no love for Hoffa, may end up backing Shelley.

Shefferman's Clients

A squad of Senate sleuths, led by rackets counsel Bob Kennedy, has just come back from an investigative foray into Michigan with new questions to ask Teamsters' strongman Jimmy Hoffa.

For one thing, they intend to pin him down on his dealings with Nathan Shefferman, labor consultant extraordinary, who has had amazing success keeping his clients out of trouble with the Teamsters.

Of the 300 clients Shefferman testified he had, Bob Kennedy's boys have located 121 in Michigan. A majority have been able to get away with using nonunion drivers right in Hoffa's home state.

From Kennedy's confidential files, here are the biggest Shefferman clients: Awrey Bakeries, Bond Clothing, Boston Shoe Stores, Capper and Capper, Cross Company, Crawler Milner, Detroit Bolt and Nut, Good House-keeping Shops, Gordon Baking, Grinnell Brothers, Hotpoint Appliances, J. L. Hudson, Hughes and Hatcher, Ernest Kern, King Brooks, Kline's Women's Apparel, S. S. Kresge, Merchants Credit Bureau, Michigan Hospital Service.

Also Ned's Auto Supply, People's Outfitting, T. B. Ray, Robinson Furniture, Russek's, Fred Sanders, Sears Roebuck, Service Parking Grounds, Harry Sufirin, United Shirt Distribution, Ver Hovel Chevrolet, and Winkelman Brothers Apparel. All these firms are located in Detroit where Hoffa has his headquarters.

Tip to Kennedy: Hoffa is anxious to keep your investigators from questioning his chauffeur and bodyguard, Robert Baker. Before Hoffa's last appearance, he hustled Baker out of town. The husky chauffeur spent several days at Mercy Hospital in Des Moines, supposedly "to lose weight."

Gone To Dogs

Gl's at Walker Air Force Base, N. M., have come up with startling evidence to back up their gripes against housing facilities. The base recently donated an old barracks building to the City of Roswell which promptly converted it into a dog house.

But Alderman Max Littell bitterly protested, in behalf of the dogs, that the facilities weren't "decent." What's good enough for Gl's apparently isn't good enough for homeless humans.

Landmark Threatened

Besides cluttering up the countryside with billboards, the new federal highway system may play havoc with priceless historical buildings including George Washington's Revolutionary War headquarters in Morristown, N. J.

To save this landmark, Morristown officials have enlisted the support of Rep. Frank Thompson (D., N. J.), culture-conscious Congressman who has carried on a one-man battle of plugging American artistic accomplishments to the outside world.

Besides Washington's headquarters, the Morristown National Historical Park is threatened by the proposed route of the new interstate highway through New Jersey.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

The Life Prolongation Research Institute. Ever hear of it? This is indeed a noble experiment. It is engaged in research which may double the span of life. That is to enable the average human to live to be 140 years old. It is in Madison, Wis., and headed by the distinguished gerontologist, Dr. Johan Bjorksten. An extremely interesting angle in Dr. Bjorksten's experiments is that he hopes to enable people to grow younger. How much younger I can't say. But think of being 75 and feeling as if you were 35. Also consider the feeling of being able to dance the cha-cha at your hundredth wedding anniversary.

AMONG THE MARRIED

Are you an ex-husband? Or an ex-wife? What was the major cause of dissension in your Little Blue Heaven? Don't tell me, it is none of my business. Ava Gardner with refreshing frankness recently discussed a couple of her ex-husbands. "Mickey Rooney," said Ava, "was great fun but when I married him I found I was neither wife nor companion. I was just an audience for him." Regarding Frank Sinatra Ava said, "When Frank was down and out he was so sweet. But when he got back to the top again it was hell."

ASIDES

The average Frenchman spends half his income on food and drink. His favorite dinner is steak, potatoes, salad, cheese, fruit, red wine and black coffee. . . . Many feminine subscribers commenting on the youthful appearance of Maureen O'Hara, the cinema luminary, ask what her age is. Many seem to think Maureen is about 40. She is only 36.

MALE AND FEMALE

"Only a man could write the 'Ninth Symphony.' Only a woman could have a baby." That statement is included in a discussion as to the comparative accomplishments of the male and female. I believe a woman could compose a musical work as good as Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony." Perhaps some day some woman will. However, having a baby is not exclusively a feminine achievement. It needs co-operation. Give a little credit to the father.

RECORD

As for the record for continuous union membership in this country it certainly must be held by John T. Sweeney of Manhattan, Kan., who has been a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for 70 years. Mr. Sweeney is 98 years old.

NO WAITING

In what place does your wife have to stand around longest before being waited upon? In France some mothers are given "priority cards." These cards relieve them from standing in line to make purchases, see officials, or buy travel tickets. They also have priority in getting on buses. And for seats in the subway (Metro). Eligible for these priority cards are mothers with four living children under 16. . . . Or three under 14. And pregnant women after the fourth month.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. What is the origin of calling the place where baseball pitchers warm up "the bull pen"? A. Has its origin in bull fighting. At arenas where this sport is conducted the substitute bulls are kept in a pen to be used when necessary. . . . Q. When will the Gilbert & Sullivan operettas be in the public domain? A. In 1961. Fifty years after the death of W. S. Gilbert.

SPEED

The reason passenger automobiles are built to travel at a speed of 100 miles or more is because with the motor in present use it is necessary to have a difference in the "operational" and maximum speed. Thus to go 60 miles an hour a motor capable of producing a speed of 100 miles an hour must be used. Otherwise the motor would be ruined. So I am informed by an automotive engineer. Very interesting. However, how about a speed regulator set 60 miles an hour? Would that ruin the motor?

Anybody present who harkles back to the alphabetical dynasty of Franklin D.? That was the semester the Constitution ranked even with the monogrammed towel.

We all recollect the stencil FDR was Frankie himself. But do you remember the FAA or the EIB? One handled national alcohol and was tagged the Home Load Administration. The other used wharves for branch banks and toots on a fog horn for collateral.

The FBC harnessed the cold illumination of lightning bugs, the static electricity in revolving doors and the friction of elbows.

EXWR encouraged the farming of highways by liberal subsidies on nods. It didn't keep the wolf away from the door. But it made him happy on the doorstep.

The difference between WPA and APW depended on whether you were coming in or going out. In those days if your agency wasn't on a glass door it was sure to be on the transom.

The SABU was not the elephant boy of Chevy Chase. It was the bureau for synchronizing waste motion with spindled agenda.

It was the swivel-topped mezzaninners of the Pentagonized Phalanx that discovered the power of the triplicate. And that the two extra carbon copies should agree with each other.

And last but not final the LBRQK which loaned money on two-family haystacks, bought stem-winding turbans for early-to-beduins and beaters-around for the Bushmen.

New Medicines To Help The Hypertensive

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

We have medicines and operations capable of reducing the blood pressure in 80 per cent of all hypertensives. Even though modern drugs are superior to anything we have had in the past, many authorities believe therapy of this type is only in its infancy.

High blood pressure decreases life expectancy and therein lies the main reason why it should be treated. Statistics show that the survival rate has improved since the advent of our new remedies, because they help prevent the complications of this condition. In addition, the individual feels better when the reading is at a respectable level.

But no one should be casual or haphazard about the use of these new remedies. Before they are prescribed, the physician evaluates the physical condition. This is essential, because it is not the height of the blood pressure that counts but what the blood pressure is doing to the heart, kidneys, and blood vessels of the brain.

This is why tests are advised to investigate the kidneys and the heart. The vessels in back of the eyes offer clues on the condition of the blood vessels of the brain.

The medication used in the treatment of hypertension varies with the severity of the disorder. Extracts of the Indian tranquilizer, rauwolfia, are used in mild cases. Hydralazine, surgery, and the ganglionic blocking agents are reserved for severe hypertension. Rauwolfia also is combined with other drugs, especially when the latter are not doing the job by themselves.

Ecolid, hexamethonium, and mecamylamine are the most popular of the ganglionic blocking preparations. The latter is preferred because of the uniform way in which it is absorbed. Time is needed to adjust to these products and the more the victim cooperates with the physician, the better the results.

There is more to the treatment of hypertension than the use of pills. The obese should go on a low caloric diet until excess weight is corrected. Be moderate in the use of salt and tobacco. Rest is most important. Emo-

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

John Straley tells about a handy man who developed a powerful yen for a pair of fawn-colored slacks in his boss' wardrobe, and figuring they would be given to him eventually, resolved to help things along a bit. He rubbed some grease into them in two prominent places, then told the owner, "Nothing I tries gits out the spote. Reckon you can't wear them pants no more."

"Funny," mused the owner. "Have you tried ammonia?"

"I sure has," grinned the handy man, "and they fits like a glove."

A woman nearing 80 signed up for a secretarial course in the midwest. "I'm determined to read my husband's diary," she exclaimed. "For 59 years he's been keeping it in shorthand."

Billy Reed points out one more difference between a pessimist and an optimist. The former says, "I'm in a rut." The latter, "I'm in the groove!"

Western Maryland Softball Tournament To Begin Today

Spa, Lacy's Open Sixth Annual Meet

Games Scheduled
At Penn Avenue;
Start At 6 P. M.

Spa Bar and Lacy's Delicatessen will open the sixth annual Western Maryland Softball Tournament today at Penn Avenue field.

The tourney, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, has 14 entries and games will be on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays beginning at 6 p. m.

The initial round will be completed this week with a double-header tonight kicking off the program. Three games are scheduled Wednesday and another pair will be played on Thursday to end the first round.

Games Begin At 6 O'clock

The first-round pairings pit the Spa Bar, consisting of K. of C. players from the City and Rocking Chair leagues, against Lacy's, composed of members of the Old Exports and Blue Ribbon Bakery clubs of the City League. Game time tonight will be 6 o'clock.

At 7:30 p. m. Peskins and the Moose clubs will tangle. The Peskins aggregation is made up of players from the Rec League championship Post team and the runner-up Peskins team.

Winners of these two games will face each other in the quarter-final round on Tuesday, September 17, at 6 p. m.

On Wednesday at 6 o'clock Stringtown, representing the County League, will meet the South End Democratic Club. The Democratic roster carries players from the Elks of the Rocking Chair League.

Hermans Play Wednesday

Also on Wednesday the Hermans, City League champions, will test Bopp's Flower Shop in the 7:30 clash. Bopp will field players from the Rec League.

In the 9 o'clock engagement on Wednesday the Sports Shoppe tangles with Ritter's A. C. The Sports Shoppe team is composed of Rec League players while Rocking Chair team is the same which played this season in the league.

The winners of the first two games Wednesday will meet in the quarter finals on September 17 at 7:30 p. m.

Thursday will find Corriganville, the County League champs, meeting the Old Germans of the City League at 6 o'clock.

The Maple Inn Exports of the County League face Gray's Tavern of the Rec League in the nightcap on Thursday.

The victor in the Corriganville-Old Germans clash plays the winner of Wednesday's Sports Shoppe-Ritter's engagement on September 17 at 9 o'clock in the quarter-final round.

The winner of the Maple Inn-Gray's clash draws a bye into the semi-final round.

Finals On September 19

The semi-finals are set for Wednesday, September 18, and the finals will be played on Thursday, September 19.

Managers for the teams are Mickey Clark, Spa Bar; Don Ritter, Lacy's; B. J. Williams, Peskins; Don Lilly, Moose; Amos See, Stringtown; Bob McGreevy, Democrats; James Allen, Hermans; Buddy Meade, Bopp's; Wayne Holly, Sports Shoppe; Walter Hite, Ritter's; Gerald Raygor, Corriganville; Norman Osbourne, Old Germans; Joe Glass, Maple Inn; and Frank Nethken, Gray's.

Individual trophies will be awarded to members of the winning team along with an all-tournament team trophy and a sportsmanship award.

Umpires of the Tri-State Umpire Association will officiate at the games.

Women's Shuffle League To Meet

The Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Redmen Hall in Cumberland for the purpose of planning the coming season.

All representatives of last year's 12 teams as well as new teams desiring to enter the league are urged to attend the meeting.

Election of officials also will be held at the Wednesday session. Present officers are Mary Humberston, president; Marguerite Lashley, vice president; Ruth Twigg, secretary; Rachael Muir, treasurer; and Virginia Rice, publicity chairman.

Hafer Is Victor

Cliff Hafer defeated John Wilson, 2 and 1, in a second flight match in the men's fall golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Ladies To Play

Members of the Women's Golf Association team will meet at 10 a. m. at the Cumberland Country Club for their team's match today.

WORLD SERIES PLANNERS — Baseball commissioner Ford C. Frick, seated center, meets with executives of first place and top contending clubs in both major leagues at New York to discuss details for the 1957 World Series. Milwaukee Braves president Joseph Cairnes, left, and New York Yankees vice

Tennessee To Face Stiff Opposition On Gridirons

Ga. Tech, Kentucky, Miami Are Stronger

This is the second in a series of pre-season sectional football round-ups.

BY JACK WALSH

ATLANTA, Sept. 9 — (INS) — Tennessee must overcome a multiple threat in its native Southland if it hopes to retain a lofty national ranking in college football this season.

The Volunteers — second nationally to Oklahoma in 1956 — are challenged by the strengthened squads of Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Auburn and Mississippi in their own Southeastern Conference, and possible show-stealing efforts by Duke and Miami.

In addition to heightened regional rivalry, Tennessee suffered a severe loss of material. The fallout included "All-American" tailback John Majors and end Buddy Cruze.

Have Experienced Line

The Vols will be bolstered by an experienced line, however, and backfield talent including blocking back Stockton Adkins, fullback Tommy Bronson and wingback Bill Anderson.

To fill the Majors' tailback vacancy, Coach Bowden Wyatt will employ either Paul Caver or Al Carter.

Georgia Tech, a bowl competitor six years running and perennial national figure, may be the club to rock Tennessee.

The Engineers also fell victim to the graduation nemesis, but Coach Bobby Dodd has the encouragement of an outstanding rookie crop.

Quarterback Fred Braselton and halfback Floyd Faucette and Cal James are soph prospects likely to see action. They will be joined by vets Don Stephenson at center, halfback Stan Flowers and end Jerry Nabors.

Led by All-American tackle prospect Lou Michaels, Kentucky's Wildcats are another latent threat. The northernmost SEC contender is a well-advanced ball club.

Auburn, with halfbacks Bobby Hoppe and Tommy Lorino, and Mississippi — conference titlist in 1954 and '55 — are also logical Vol hazards.

Duke Is Top Choice

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke is an overwhelming choice. Maryland and South Carolina are considered the Blue Devils' roughest competitors.

Virginia's Cavaliers have a potential All-America in fullback Jim Bakhtiar. But unfortunately, the classy junior appears unsupported on the Virginia roster.

Independent Miami, which cracked top-ten rankings last year, is a formidable candidate to out-perform all other Dixie footballers.

The Hurricanes feature a well-balanced squad in '57 and an improved national finish would not be surprising.

The Southern Conference crown is tabbed a pre-season toss up between Virginia Tech and West Virginia. The outcome may well be decided Sept. 28 when those teams meet.

Players To Sign

Players desiring to compete in the pro-am golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club on Sunday are requested to register at the golf shop.

Terps Hold Two Drills In Rain

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 9 —The University of Maryland football team held two outdoor workouts today despite an all-day rain.

Coach Tommy Mont decided not to practice indoors because this was the first day the Terps have been able to concentrate on defense for their opener Sept. 21 against Texas A&M. Offense was stressed during the first week.

Maryland's first three units played defense against Aggie plays run by the "B" squad and then switched to offense against the freshmen.

Mont made several switches in the wake of last Saturday's full-scale scrimmage. He moved senior Ed Cooke to first string left end, sophomore Rodney Breedlove to second string guard, and sophomore John Forbes from fourth string right half to third string fullback.

Keyser Archers Hold Tourney

Fred DeVault Wins Meef's Top Prize

KEYSER, Sept. 9 —The Green Mountain Archers club of Keyser presented its first "Screwball Shoot," on the club's range south of Keyser. The archery site has been approved by the National Field Archery Association.

The meet, the first of its kind, was held here Sunday with a large field of spectators. A number of out-of-town archers were not present due to competition in the Maryland State Tournament held at Frederick on Saturday and Sunday.

Winners in the "Screwball" tourney were: 1st prize, Fred DeVault, Arthurdale; 2nd prize, William "Bud" McDowell, Piedmont; 3rd prize, Floyd Huff, Bar-rackville; 4th prize, Harry Nicholas, Arthurdale.

All winners were presented tro-

Orioles Recall Hurler Pappas

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 (AP) —The Baltimore Orioles announced today the recall of 18-year-old right-hander Milt Pappas from Knoxville in the Class A Sally League.

The Oriole was sent down to Knoxville after appearing in two games against the Yankees in which he pitched three innings in two games and gave up one earned run.

With Knoxville he made two starts and appeared once in relief for a 0-1 record.

He is to be in Baltimore in time for tomorrow's game with Kansas City.

The next big event by the local archers is being planned for spring.

Members are now concentrating on practice for the coming hunting season which opens October 11.

Chancellors, Guards Win K-C Openers

The Chancellors and the Guards opened the Knights of Columbus Bowling League with victories last night on the Club Recreation alleys.

The Chancellors defeated the Grand Knights, 2-1, while the Guards took the measure of the Recorders, 2-1.

High man for the evening was Raymond "Ike" Law of the Guards with 180-486. Other team leaders were Jerry Farrell of the Recorders, 217-478; Joe Webb, Chancellors, 185-476; and Jack Loibel Jr., Grand Knights, 182-457. The standings:

|             | W | L |            | W | L |

New "Flying A" Super Extra Gasoline

SUPER POWER (over 100-octane) EXTRA SAVINGS (lower price)

Up to now only small quantities of 100-octane gasoline have been available, and always at a "scarcity price." But now, with "Flying A's" new $200,000,000 refinery in full production, gasoline of over 100-octane is widely available—at a lower price! A real achievement in refining—a real break for you as a motorist.

World Series Opens October 2 In American League Park

Days Off For Travel Time Possibility

Games To Begin At 1 P. M. And Will Be Nationally Televised

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The 1957 World Series will open Wednesday, Oct. 2, in the park of the American League pennant winner—most likely New York and possibly Chicago—Commissioner Ford Frick announced today.

The first two games, as usual, will be played in the American League park, the next three in the home park of the National League champions. Games Nos. 6 and 7, if necessary, will be played in the American League park.

For the first time in 11 years, there is a strong possibility of the World Series combatants taking time off for travel.

In case of an east-west World Series, for instance one between the Yankees and Milwaukee Braves, or one between the White Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers—there will be a day of travel after the second and fifth games. In case of an all-east or all-west series, one between St. Louis and Chicago, for instance—there will be no intervening days off.

Time Off In 1946
The last time the World Series teams enjoyed a day off, other than because of rain, was in 1946 when the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals had a day off for travel after the second and fifth games.

Games will start at 1 p.m. local time as in the past. The games will be nationally televised by NBC under the five-year, $16,250,000 contract signed last January.

Prices will be the same as last year—$10.00 for box seats, $7 reserved, $4 standing room and $2 bleachers. The prices include federal tax but not state and city tax. New York state and city tax total 10 per cent of the ticket price. The State of Wisconsin has no state or city tax.

"We discussed the possibility of raising prices," said Frick, "but decided against it."

All box and reserve seats will be sold in strips of three (National) or four (American). Standing room and bleacher tickets will be sold for single games.

Can See One Game
"Milwaukee wanted to sell bleacher tickets in strips of three," said Frick, "but I refused to permit it. If people wanted to see one game only they should have a chance to see the one game."

Provisions also were made in case either of the pennant races ends in a tie. Should the American League race end in a stand-off, there will be a one-game playoff, on Monday, Sept. 30, with the series opening on the scheduled date, Oct. 2. Should the National League race end in a tie, there will be a best-of-three game playoff, starting Monday.

"In that case," said Frick, "the start of the World Series will have to be postponed to either Thursday, Oct. 3 or Friday, Oct. 4. It all depends on which team wins the American League pennant."

Five teams were represented at the meeting in the commissioner's office—Yankees, White Sox, Cardinals, Braves and Dodgers.

Played With Bears

DETROIT—George Wilson was named head coach of the Detroit Lions just twenty years after he entered the National Football League as a player with the Chicago Bears.

BEST LOCAL DOG—Prichard's Show Girl a Collie, was adjudged the best local dog in the dog show held Saturday in the Frostburg National Guard Armory and sponsored by the Upper Potomac Kennel Club. Mrs. Earl Smith, show chairman and secretary of the Kennel Club, stands at the left with the silver dish and ribbon to be presented to the owner, Mrs. Donald Prichard also owner of the "Cameo Kennels," Grantsville. The judge Alva Rosenberger, New York, stands at the right.

Skowron Seen Key To Yanks' Home Success

13-Game Stand To Start Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—First baseman Bill Skowron leads two lives for the New York Yankees.

Playing on the road, the 6-foot, 155-pound Chicagoan rivals the fierce hitting of teammate Mickey Mantle and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. His batting average through 74 road games is .366.

At Yankee Stadium, Skowron, a right-handed hitter, is a pitcher's patsy with a .231 average after 64 games.

Skowron, benched in Washington last weekend for weak hitting, probably will return to the starting lineup tomorrow as the Yankees open a 13-game home drive to clinch the American League pennant. They lead Chicago by 5½ games.

Manager Casey Stengel may have to lean more on Skowron's run-producing with Mantle slowed up by painful shin splints and Yogi Berra out with a sprained thumb. Skowron is second to Mantle in runs batted in (87) and batting average (.304) on the Yankees.

Last season he hit .346 on the road, .266 at home.

The first baseman, who has a four-year major league average of .314, insisted today huge Yankee Stadium doesn't awe him. But he added:

"I shouldn't say this. But I'm confident when I hit on the road. I know I can hit the ball out of any park in the league—except for Yankee Stadium."

"I just don't know why."

Bill says his power is toward straightaway center, a 461-foot shot at Yankee Stadium, longest in the league. One of his longest blasts at home this year was a 440-foot hit off Cleveland's Don Mossi. "It was caught, just an AB (at bat)," said Skowron in disgust.

When Skowron opposes Cleveland tomorrow, he will be looking for his first hit against the Indians at home in 23 times at bat, a round .000. At Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, Bill is 16 for 33, a .485 pace.

Two Fishermen Nab Same Fish

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 9 (AP)—Two fishermen, standing 50 feet apart on the Mississippi River bank yesterday caught the same fish.

Glenn Simmons of Davenport, Iowa, and Basil Hindon of Bettendorf, Iowa, reeled in their lines simultaneously after seeing their floats sink.

A three-pound perch had both anglers' hooks firmly planted in his mouth. Hindon awarded the catch to Simmons, assenting that, since the Davenport man was upstream, he had done the most work.

Patton, Reid Jack Survive National Amateur Round

Don Hoenig Upsets Ireland's Joe Carr

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 9 (AP)—Billy Joe Patton, the Sam Snead of the simon-pures, and Reid Jack, a wiry Scotchman who holds the British Amateur title, survived risky opening assignments today in a formful 72-match session of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Only Joe Carr of Ireland, the former British Amateur king who is one of Britain's all-time stars, failed to make the grade among favorites playing the 18-hole first rounders over The Country Club. Carr, his game collapsing miserably, fell before 25-year-old Don Hoenig of Wethersfield, Conn., 5 and 3.

All other topline players, including key men of the U.S. and British Walker Cup teams, survived the eliminations which started shortly after dawn and lasted until dusk.

Patton, the colorful Morganton, N.C., lumberman who has become the tournament's main personality in the absence of champion Harvey Ward Jr., turned back Bobby Knowles of Beverly Farms, Mass., 4 and 2.

Jack Is Masterful

Jack, so thin it appeared a gust of wind might blow him away, gave a masterful exhibition in subduing H. H. Haverstick Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., 2 and 1. Haverstick, 39, is playing in his 11th national amateur.

With the largest part of the gallery at his heels, Patton crammed his tee shots and battled out of difficult places with his usual daring.

He shattered Knowles' confidence by driving the 290-yard fifth hole to get a birdie three and by sending a booming shot down the fairway of the 510-yard eighth which left him a four-iron shot to the green for a second birdie.

He turned two up and clinched the match on the 16th where he put his tee shot within eight feet of the 170-yard hole for a conceded duce. Knowles, former Walker Cup member who grew up on this course, conceded the match after using two shots to get to the green.

Jack built up a two-hole lead on the outgoing nine by shooting the side in 34, one under par, but he tired near the end. He took a double bogey on the 16th and was bunkered again at the 17th, but came out of trouble to get a half and clinch the match.

"I play well until the finish," Jack said.

Have Banner Day

Patton commented: "I think those two long drives I had on the first nine kind of shook Bobby up. I really creamed 'em."

America's Walker Cup forces had a banner day. They came through without a casualty.

These included Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga.; William Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.; Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn.; and Dr. Frank Taylor of Upland, Calif.

Rudolph, a bespectacled Army private who began playing in national championships at the age of 15, figured in one of the day's most unique triumphs. Four down after the first four holes, he rallied to beat Charles Harrison of Atlanta, 2 up.

Joe Campbell, the former college champion from Purdue University, erased one of the sport's most famous names from the board when he beat Robert Tyre Jones III, son of the immortal Bobby, 3 and 2.

Blum put out Paul Kelly of Scarborough, N.Y., 4 and 3; Bill Campbell won over Anthony (Perky) Cullinane of Bethesda, Md., 3 and 2 in a ragged match which saw him ahead by only one hole at the turn. Taylor beat another golfing dentist, Wendell Aldrich of Kendallville, Ind., 2 and 1.

Bowlers Honored

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 — Don Carter and Marion Ladewig, Brunswick Advisory Staff stars, reign as Bowlers of the Year for the new season. The honor of Bowler of the Year is awarded annually by the Bowling Writers Association of America to the nation's top male and top female bowler based on the preceding season's performances.

Berra, Mantle Reports Good

Catcher's Thumb Is Not Broken

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The New York Yankees got some good news today on their two celebrated cripples—Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra.

Mantle was released from Lenox Hill Hospital and X-rays of Berra's injured right thumb showed no break.

The mighty Mickey entered the hospital Sept. 6 to rest his injured left leg. He has been suffering from shin splints. That is the separation of tissue from the bone.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the club physician, said Mantle was much better and his return to the lineup depended on the outfielder himself and Manager Casey Stengel. Dr. Gaynor said it all depended on how Mantle felt.

Berra was hurt by a foul tip Saturday in Washington. The thumb still is swollen and badly sprained and Dr. Gaynor said the clutch-hitting catcher might not be available until after the crucial series with the runner-up Chicago White Sox at the stadium Friday and Saturday.

"It is a day to day situation with Berra," said Dr. Gaynor. "He might be able to play earlier."

The Yankees, who are 5½ games in front of the White Sox, are idle today along with the other major league clubs. They meet Cleveland here Tuesday night and Wednesday, have an open date Thursday, and then tangle with the White Sox on Friday and Saturday.

The American Junior Bowling Congress has grown from 16 boys at one Chicago high school in 1937 to a nationwide program with 131,000 boys and girls participating in 1957.

Atkinson Is Named To Hall Of Fame

Two Oldtimers Are Also Elected Into Shrine For Jockeys

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 — Two oldtimers and Ted Atkinson, one of the nation's top present-day riders, today won places in the National Jockeys Hall of Fame here.

In addition to the 41-year-old Atkinson, now enjoying one of his most successful seasons on the New York circuit, Walter Miller and Raymond (Sonny) Workman also were voted into the Hall of Fame.

Louis Pondfield, chairman and founder of the hall which is maintained as a permanent racing shrine at Pimlico Race Track here, announced the results of balloting by more than 500 sports writers and broadcasters.

The three new choices join six jockeys previously elected since the Hall of Fame was opened in 1955. Three jockeys are named each year. Already enshrined are Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden, Isaac Murphy, Earl Sande, Tod Sloan and George (The Iceman) Woolf.

Workman, king of the jockeys in the late 1930's, led the balloting among seven inactive riders eligible, while Miller who had his top riding year in 1906, edged out Laverne Fater by six votes for the other position open to oldtime riders.

Atkinson, who won over two other active jockeys in the balloting, is in his 20th year as a jockey. Through last month, he had ridden 3,583 winners out of more than 21,000 mounts. Horses he has ridden have won more than 16 million dollars in purses.

Gridders Disappear

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—It could be that someone in Sewickley, Pa., is anti-Carolina. When the 1957 edition of the University of North Carolina football team assembled here on August 30, it was minus guard Bruno Rasco and halfback George Kirk, two standouts on last year's Tar Heels freshman team and natives of Sewickley. The loss of Rasco, who was No. 2 right guard last spring, is particularly disheartening.

Tar Heels Can Refuel

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—George Barclay, former North Carolina head coach and first Tar Heel All-American, has the gasoline to give in case the 1957 Tatum grid machine runs down. Barclay, who accepted an invitation to join Tatum's staff on the seasonable basis this year, owns and operates a service station in Chapel Hill during the off-season.

HEADING FOR TOP - - - By Alan Maver

DICK GROAT, PITTSBURGH SHORTSTOP WHO'S HAVING THE BEST YEAR OF HIS BRIEF CAREER - WITH THE SEASON'S HOME STRETCH BECKONING, HE WAS STILL UP WITH THE BATTING ELITE.

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

"THREE-EYE PITCHING KING."

That was the heading on the sports brief sent out by the National league publicist in 1942 about a 19-year-old Buffalo, N. Y., southpaw who was getting his first chance to pitch in the big leagues with the Boston Braves.

Warren Edward Spahn was his name and he was just a year out of South Park high at the time.

Spahn has come a long way since that time and today, now 36 years old, he continues to reign as the pitching king of the National league and already has cut a notch in the all-time record book of baseball as a southpaw star.

Currently on his way to his eighth 20-win season, Spahn recently twirled his fourth shutout of the season, his 41st of a sparkling career and is leading the Braves to the pennant.

WHEN SPAHN pitched for Evansville in 1941, after a first year start at Bradford, he turned in a 1.83 earned-run average, had seven shutouts and finished with a 19-6 record.

After a look by the Braves in the spring of 1942 he went to Hartford where he finished with a 17-12 record. He got in four games for the Braves but had no record.

The service called and Spahn was out for three years.

When he came back, in 1946, he prefaced a big career ahead with an 8-5 mark and in 1947 he won his first 20 games, with a 21-10 mark.

Ever since he's been the southpaw ace of the Braves, winning 20 games or more seven times.

This season he got off to a late start but now has won eight in a row and needs only a couple of victories to record another 20 wins.

IT'S A REMARKABLE pitching story for the aging veteran of the Braves and a story which will be written in the Hall of Fame when he becomes eligible to join that select group.

Spahn has appeared in one World Series, in 1948, and in that event he was 1-1.

He will get the starting assignment in the Blue Ribbon Classic coming up and many observers believe that Spahn and the other top-flight Brave pitchers will finally take the Yankees.

Bold Ruler Wins Feature At Belmont

Gallops To 5 1/2 Length Triumph

ELMONT, N. Y., Sept. 9 — Bold Ruler came back to the races fast and fit, galloping to a five and a half length victory in the $15,000 Times Square Handicap at Belmont Park today.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our kind friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy, also the pallbearers, those who so kindly provided cars, sent floral tributes and all those who assisted us in any way during our recent bereavement, the loss of our beloved father, son and brother, Harold M. Emerick, MRS. ANNA EMERICK AND FAMILY

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Defense Against Wrinkles

Be prepared to bare your brow this fall. The newest millinery is shaped, draped, and molded to show the hairline. Velvets, furs, and feathers all add the soft touch and surround the head in a glow of fabulous color.

If your forehead is too low, the new hats worn back on the head will increase its height. If you have a perfect brow, they will create a most picturesque outline—but only if the brow is wrinkle-free! Of course, if you're past sixty, an unlined face wouldn't look natural.

The important thing is to avoid those premature lines and wrinkles, the unnecessary ones. They aren't always signs of old age; frequently they may be the result of neglect such as prolonged dryness of the skin.

Ever Watchful

Be vigilant about using cream, massaging thoroughly but lightly into the skin. This will help not only camouflage the wrinkles you now have, but it will also prevent further wrinkles from forming.

The more regularly you care for your skin and the sooner you begin, the better are your chances for a lasting, youthful bloom.

One more thing: Remember, you're only inviting wrinkles and lines on your brow every time you frown or furrow the brow... so erase them by correcting the expressions or mannerisms which cause frowns. One of the best ways is to practice keeping the corners of your mouth turned up into a smile. It's also a good idea to affix a plaster to your forehead while you sleep. And last but not least, get your full share of sleep each night for that ever-fresh and alive look all day long.

TOMORROW: New Silhouette.

Coppers Decline Sharply In Sluggish Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Coppers took some sharp losses today, lending emphasis to today's sluggish stock market decline.

Volume totaled a low 1,420,000 shares compared with 1,320,000 on Friday. This indicated that the cautious wait-and-see attitude was still prevailing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $1.40 to $172.10 with the industrials down $2.40, the rails down $1.20 to their new 1957 low and the utilities down 40 cents to a new low for the year.

Of 1,139 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 690 to 223. There were 105 new lows for the year and only 2 new highs, Frank G. Shattuck Co. and American Colotype.

The depressed tone of the session was further demonstrated by the fact that 14 of the 15 most active stocks were losers and one was unchanged.

Taking the worst of the selling pressure in the copper group, Anaconda headed the most active list, down 2 1/2 at 49 1/2 on 24,100 shares. Second was Standard Oil (New Jersey), off 1/2 at 47 1/2 on 18,300 shares. Third was Sperry Rand, off 1/2 at 20 1/2 on 18,200 shares.

Next came General Motors, off 1/4 at 41 1/2, followed by Royal Dutch, off 1 1/2 at 53.

Reynolds Metals dropped 1 1/2 as it cut special charges on large aluminum alloy plate. Other news in the aluminum industry was far from bullish. Aluminum Ltd. dropped 1 1/2, Kaiser Aluminum 1/2 and Alcoa 1/2.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The grain futures market turned downward on the Board of Trade today with September wheat off more than a cent at times under liquidation.

Closing prices:
Wheat (old): Sep. 2.17 1/2; Dec. 2.23 1/2.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

It Comes With The Set

If canned baby-food were free no doubt some people would eat nothing but canned baby-food day in and day out. But not many. Not for long. The most miserly person, after working his way through a certain number of cans, would break down and buy something more tempting to the adult palate. No doubt baby-food is nourishing, aseptic, reinforced with abundant vitamins; no doubt it would sustain life indefinitely if there were nothing else obtainable, but you don't want it, and I don't. You don't want the first bland bite probably, to say nothing of long, increasingly boring years on the stuff.

Yet the case for baby-food, if it were free, would be the same as the case for the television and radio fare provided for humans throughout the United States. That fare is made up out of the cheapest available nutrients, put together with the intent of offending no taste, of remaining so innocent and innocuous that no sect, no religion, no race, no school of thought, no philosophy, no frame of mind, no possible audience can find it objectionable. This severely limits the flavors and contents of the cans. The networks have been searching for years for the lowest common denominator. Sometimes I think they have found it. However, writers, actors, directors and producers are human and unpredictable. They sometimes give a little meaning to a program. When this happens there is a rush of feet and a strangled cry.

But the networks are not to blame. The advertisers are not to blame. We are. So long as we accept that monotonous free supply of baby-food that comes piped into our homes, and make no protest, we deserve what we get. In all other fields of entertainment we pay for what we receive, and we can choose what we want. The books, papers and magazines you read, the plays and pictures you see, the records you play are chosen, purchased and paid for. And when a book or play is presented by a publisher or a producer it is not tied to any advertiser or overall censor. It lives or dies by free public opinion, by the vote of men and women ready to put down money for it. Radio and television have sunk to the position of pabulum and pap because we have been willing to accept savorless stuff rather than pay for the free thought of free minds and the endless variety of entertainment that could come to us over the air if the media were emancipated.

It's freedom of choice that keeps all living things alive and able to change to meet a changing world. It was freedom of choice that made possible the origins of species. It's freedom of choice that lies behind the origins of all new things. When freedom of choice is banished, as it is now from all the airwaves, there can be no new thing said, no creative voice lifted. Channels can go on repeating old and accepted formulas, but nothing can go forward. Nothing can be added to what was said before.

It is possible that the methods now proposed for pay-as-you-go television are not as convenient as the acceptance of the piped-in supplies now delivered by the networks and advertisers. To get the programs you want you might have to pay as much as you pay for magazines, or more. But the changes that would ensue would be more than worth it. A great medium that is now almost exclusively devoted to low-grade entertainment would begin to take on the characteristics and standards of the worlds of publishing and the theatre. Small ventures could come to nothing if they did not meet popular support. Plays, ideas, words could find their own level without interference from the middlemen who now decide what we are to see and what we may not see.

If you were willing to pay your quarter, or your dollar if necessary, to get something more challenging than mush you could have it. There would be nothing to prevent you from sticking to the present offerings if you didn't have the price of something else with you. But the choice would be like the choice between one of those throw-away newspapers that you find unwanted on your door-step and "The New York Times," or "The Tribune," or "The Stamford Advocate."

Of course there are enormous forces of inertia holding us back from free choice of programs. The large advertising companies, the networks themselves, the concerns that market nation-wide products, all have enormous investments of capital, personnel, and know-how in the present regime. They dig in and pull back as automatically as pigs led to slaughter when anybody suggests that we choose and pay for programs. The private owner himself, remembering how much he had to pay for his set and what the upkeep costs, is reluctant to admit that any program might call for additional outlay.

On the other side is this simple fact, that there is no substitute for freedom of choice. So long as somebody else is choosing for us what we can see on television, television is an enemy to thought, an enemy to culture, an enemy to the education of our citizens, young and old. There is no choice among the stations at present. Wherever you turn you get childish stuff, and it will be that way so long as we won't pay for what we want. We have sold our gigantic television birthright for a mess of pottage.

Area Is Asked To Raise Share For River Plan

Committee Briefed By Col. Sumner

Corps of Engineers officials yesterday outlined before area officials a comprehensive plan for taming and developing the North Branch of the Potomac River and said they need to "know who is going to pay for what" before more progress can be made.

Col. George B. Sumner, district engineer for the Washington District of the Corps of Engineers, briefed members of the Potomac River Basin Subcommittee of the Legislative Council on the plan at a meeting yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

He presented details of a plan designed to meet comprehensively the needs of the North Branch area for flood protection, pollution abatement, water supply, recreation and other water resources.

Means More Plants

The program, through flood protection, would make available for new industrial development several thousands of acres of bottom lands between Luke and Green Spring.

But Col. Sumner explained federal participation is restricted to flood control and hydro-electric features, and that before further progress can be made the Corps of Engineers must know what states and other local interests will contribute toward the project.

Under study, he said, are a series of reservoirs and local flood protection works.

Dam sites would be located on the North Branch near Blounting, on Stony River below the U. S. Route 50 bridge, and on Savage River above the Savage River Dam.

Areas being studied for local flood protection include Bayard, W. Va., Kitzmiller, Luke and Westernport, Md., and Piedmont, W. Va., and Keyser, W. Va.

Would Cut Damage

The first dam site would be located three miles above Luke and would not only be capable of boosting the flow of the North Branch at Luke to a dependable flow of 185 million gallons a day, but would provide a high degree of flood protection for the downstream area.

The Stony River Reservoir could boost the river flow at Luke by 35 m.g.d. to give a dependable flow of 95 m.g.d., but would provide only a small amount of flood control.

The Savage River reservoir, which would be located upstream of the present dam, could be operated for water supply and some flood control. Its flood control value would be small for downstream areas but would boost the flow at Luke by 30 m.g.d. for a dependable flow of 90 m.g.d.

Total flood control benefits of the dams was estimated at about $220,000 a year.

The greatest additional benefit, Col. Sumner said, would be the economic development of the entire region.

Prepares Plans

Increased flow of the river from the Savage River reservoir, he said, has brought the North Branch area the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 and a considerable increase in the capacity of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

"Additional increased flow," he said, "would make this area, with its good transportation system, labor supply, raw materials and nearness to markets, particularly attractive to additional new industries."

The Corps, he said, is preparing design memoranda under the Small Flood Control Act for projects for Kitzmiller, Keyser and Bayard.

Studies also are being made for Westernport, Luke and Piedmont, but the cost exceeds the limit allowed under the Small Flood Control Act. The solution appears to be a combination of local protective works together with upstream reservoirs, he reported.

Col. Sumner recommended that committees be organized to develop plans for financing the non-federal share of the project.

Hearing Set Today-In Tablet Painting

Roger Cook, 23-year-old local man who police say admitted smearing red paint over the tablet on the Court House lawn which bears the Ten Commandments, will be given a hearing today in Trial Magistrate Court.

Edwin R. Lilla, Allegany County investigator, said Cook will be charged with malicious destruction of property.

Lilla said Cook yesterday signed a statement in the state's attorney's office admitting he painted the tablet late Friday night.

Kiwanis To Hear Export Manager

Arthur A. Verner, 112 Washington Street, export manager at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here, will be guest speaker Thursday noon at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Central YMCA. His remarks will concern some recent observations of new developments in Africa.

Members of the Potomac River Basin subcommittee of the Legislative Council study a plan for taming and developing the stream in this area presented by Col. George B. Sumner, Washington District engineer of the Corps of Army Engineers.

Discussing the program are Del. Lester B. Reed, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation; Rep. William B. Wheeler, Montgomery County, chairman of the subcommittee; Col. Sumner and Del. Harry C. Edwards, Garrett County.

Bloodmobile Gets Quota For Month

Donors Contribute 150 Pints Here

Despite an overcast and rainy day, enough people responded to the Red Cross Blood Bank appeal yesterday to reach the monthly quota in blood donations. A total of 150 pints was collected, added to 11 pints collected a few days ago in an emergency hospital, putting Cumberland well over the top for September.

Many donors yesterday expressed their appreciation for provisions for free car parking. Though a special arrangement with city officials and Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn, the Red Cross was permitted to "cap" parking meters on two sides of the Eagles Building to provide parking space for donors. The meter caps were made of cloth with a Red Cross on each side, and because it was raining, each cap was capped with a transparent plastic raincoat.

Of the donors scheduled yesterday 123 kept their appointments and there were 43 volunteer walkers. Eight persons were first-time donors. Fifteen were rejected for colds or other disability. Red Cross workers said three donors were servicemen in uniform, home on furloughs.

The physicians on volunteer duty yesterday were Dr. Leo H. Ley Jr., Dr. Thomas Lewis and Dr. A. J. Mirkin.

Ten donors were added to the growing list of Gallon Club members. They include Clyde O'Baker, RFD 4; Benjamin Maiden, LaVale Court; Mrs. Margaret Prett, 206 Valley Street; J. D. Reynolds, 319 Bedford Street; Mrs. L. Rose Reid, Hyndman, Pa.; Anthony Arbochasky, Fort Ashby, W. Va.; Raymond W. Hamilton, 203 Mary Street; John Durrett, 316 Williams Street; Thomas Gilchrist Jr., RFD 1, and Harry Grimes, 568 Patterson Avenue.

Two-Gallon Club members added yesterday include, Mrs. Eva O'Neal, 1205 Bedford Street; Mrs. Maude Branchoff, 415 Bedford Street; Richard Bucy, Bowling Green; Robert Fryer, Bedford Road; Edward C. Hansrote, 1021 Kent Avenue; Wilbur Wilt, Mt. Savage; John H. Smith, 209 Beall Street, and James Robinson, 318 Piedmont Avenue.

On October 7 the Bloodmobile unit is scheduled to visit the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops here, and the next public visit at the Eagles Building will be on November 4.

Forced Entry Made At Feed Store

City police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Wayne Feed Store, 214 South George Street.

A report of the forced entry was received at 9 a. m. yesterday. City Police Detective Lt. James E. Van said entrance to the building was gained through the front door when the lock was forced off.

A candy machine was pried open and an attempt was made to open a "Coke" machine, but nothing else was taken. The culprit or culprits left the building through the rear door at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks. Detective Thomas J. See also is investigating.

Legion Will Meet

A special executive board meeting will be held by Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, today at 8 p.m. in Ridgeley. Commander William Knierlein is asking all officers to be present as urgent business will be discussed.

4 Vehicles Collide On Greene St.

Considerable property damage and a temporary traffic tie-up resulted yesterday afternoon when three automobiles and a pickup truck collided at the intersection of Greene and Smallwood streets. No one apparently was injured.

Police said E. G. Robinson, of 131 Mary Street, driver of one of the cars, will be given a hearing Saturday on a motor vehicle charge.

A car driven by Mrs. Josephine Beynon, Klosterman's Addition, and the truck operated by Marvin H. McBride, Winifred Road, were parked in the northbound line of traffic on Greene Street near the intersection.

As Robinson drove up Smallwood Street onto Greene Street, his car was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Jean Getty, of Lonaconing, who was traveling south. The impact caused Robinson's car to spin against the Beynon car and truck.

Investigating officer was Carl Stouffer. The accident occurred about 3:45 p. m. and traffic was tied up for a while. Considerable damage was caused to the Robinson and Getty cars.

Man Sentenced To 18 Months In Assault Case

A former resident of Corriganville yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court was sentenced to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction after he was found guilty of assaulting his wife.

The man, James Morrison, who now resides in Baltimore, appealed the sentence by Magistrate J. Milton Dick and is lodged in Allegany County Jail in default of $2,500 bond to await action of the October term of Circuit Court.

At yesterday's hearing, Morrison's wife, Blanche, testified that her husband threatened her with a knife after he knocked her to the ground following an argument.

The fracas occurred on August 31 at the home of friends the Morrises were visiting near Corriganville. A witness to the incident said he ran to a neighbor's home to call the police after Morrison threatened his wife.

Morrison escaped into the woods nearby, but was picked up several days later by Maryland State Police.

Morrison recently was released from the Maryland House of Correction, where he had served a term for the assault of a Cumberland woman last year. Police said he was convicted one other time on a similar charge, and also had once been convicted of bigamy.

St. Luke's Opens Kindergarten

The kindergarten sponsored by St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church opened its third season yesterday with 15 pre-school children registered.

Registration will continue all this week at the parish secretary's office in the church building.

Mrs. Phyllis Brotemarkle is teacher at the kindergarten, which provides Christian training and pre-school classes. Mrs. Brotemarkle attended Potomac State College at Keyser, W. Va., and Frostburg State Teachers College, and taught for two years in the county public school system. She is assisted by Miss Joyce Mobus.

Transportation is provided by Milton Schade, church sexton.

Episcopalians Buy Property Along Route 40

Second Church Makes Purchase

The Vestry of Emmanuel Parish, the governing body of Emmanuel Episcopal Church here, has purchased 2½ lots on the south side of U. S. Route 40 in LaVale, about 4½ miles west of Cumberland.

A deed for the property was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. George F. Hazelwood, who is junior warden of Emmanuel Parish, and his wife, Mrs. Margaret M. Hazelwood, sold the property in a deed dated August 31. The property is described as Lots 6 and 5½ and Lot 4 on "Glisan Lots."

No Complete Plans The Vestry was meeting last night at the parish house but a spokesman said there would be no comment on the purchase because no complete plans for the LaVale development have been made.

It was understood several months ago that the Vestry had approved the purchase for the possible future development there of a parish house for the conduct of Episcopal functions in the LaVale area.

In 1953, all parishes in the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland conducted surveys to guide them in future planning and development. Results of the survey circulated in 1954 suggested the development of an Episcopal parish in LaVale where a considerable percentage of the parishioners of Emmanuel Episcopal Church live.

The Episcopalians' action is the second purchase of property in LaVale for possible future church developments. Back on July 25 a deed was recorded in Mr. Boden's office in which Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, Roman Catholic archbishop of Baltimore, purchased 48 lots in the Forest Glen subdivision from Harry B. Simpson, Cumberland real estate man, and his wife, Mrs. Minnie Vee Simpson.

At that time Msgr. George L. Hopkins, acting secretary of Archbishop Keough, said there were no immediate plans for development of a Catholic Church in LaVale. He suggested that a parish might be developed there if future growth in LaVale justified it.

At present there are only two churches in LaVale, Methodist and Baptist. It is the most rapidly growing suburban area in Allegany County.

South End Post Office Annual Rental Is $5,300

The lease whereby the United States of America agrees to pay $106,000 in the next 20 years for leasing the new Station A Post Office at 119 Virginia Avenue, was filed at the Court House yesterday.

Clyde S. Slider and Catherine E. Slider, 811 Louisiana Avenue, have leased the new building to the Federal Government at an annual rental of $5,300.

A copy of the lease was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Legislators Pledge Aid In River Project

Beall, Hyde Offer Help In Congress

The Potomac River Basin Subcommittee of the Legislative Council pledged support for a comprehensive plan presented here yesterday by the Corps of Engineers for developing the water resources of the North Branch of the Potomac River.

The aid was promised by Rep. William B. Wheeler, Montgomery County, acting chairman of the committee which held a regional meeting in City Hall here yesterday.

Assurances that federal support will be available were given by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who spoke briefly at the session, and by Owen E. Hitchens for Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Senator Beall asked Mr. Hitchens to say that he was in favor of any plans to improve the water resources of Western Maryland.

Includes Three Dams The plan outlined by the Corps of Engineers includes a series of three reservoirs to impound water and let it down as needed to boost the flow of the river, and flood control programs for the towns of Kitzmiller, Keyser, Bayard and Westernport, Luke and Piedmont.

The plan, which would open up areas from Luke to Green Spring for industrial sites, is being pushed, but cannot proceed much further, the committee was told, until plans for meeting local costs are known.

State May Aid Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks, said the plan ties in with the work of his department.

He said it is possible that the department might be able to provide part of the local participation share by providing some of the land needed, since it could also be used for recreation.

He offered the full facilities of that department to the Corps of Engineers in expediting the broad program of water improvement.

Mr. Kaylor said the Forests and Parks department tries to keep streams in the forest land and is interested in making more water available for a "higher level of living."

Would Benefit D. C. The river does not stay in Cumberland, Col. Sumner pointed out, and the additional water provided by the plan would benefit other users of the Potomac as far downstream as Washington.

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, said pollution in the Potomac would not be a problem if the flow could be regulated throughout the year, as only about six per cent of the water is now used.

The watershed, he said, produces 20 times as much as is available now, but not in the volume, and at the time and the place where it is needed.

To Cost $300,000 About 15 members of the Legislative Council's Potomac River Basin Subcommittee came here for a one-day on-the-spot inspection of flood protection, pollution, recreation and water supply problems.

During a morning session at the Kitzmiller community hall, Col. Sumner outlined information for the legislators taken from the Corps' "Status of Studies on the North Branch of the Potomac River."

Floyd B. Morris of the Corps told the lawmakers flood protection for Kitzmiller would cost about $300,000. He said such projects could be financed on a 90-10 matching basis, with the Federal government paying 90 per cent of the cost and the local government the remainder.

Of the total pledged to date, $2,200 was subscribed yesterday. Workers, more optimistic than they have been for several weeks, said they are now receiving assurance from some who have pledged that they will subscribe additional funds, and some who had refused have indicated they will support the enterprise.

Pledges are being sought in units of $100 each. For each unit a share of stock will be issued to the donor and the stock will bear an interest rate of three per cent. Thus, it was pointed out, the pledge is not a gift, but a long-term investment in an effort to obtain a new industry and an additional payroll in the community.

Another meeting is scheduled for next Monday night at the City Hall, when workers are hopeful that they will have the $80,000 goal in sight.

REV. R. E. BURNETTE

New Minister To Be Installed Sunday Evening

Rev. R. E. Burnette At First Christian

An installation service for Rev. Ralph E. Burnette will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at First Christian Church, 312 Bedford Street. A reception will follow.

Rev. Dr. Ralph E. Valentine, secretary of the West Virginia Christian Missionary Society, will speak on "Ministers of the Spirit."

Homer Brill, an elder of the church, will conduct the installation service and the choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Paul Gifford, organist and director. The special music will be "Sweet Peace."

Rev. Burnette was born and educated in Bluefield, W. Va., graduated from Johnson Bible College, Kimberlain Heights, Tenn., in 1950, and did graduate work at Butler School of Religion, Indianapolis, Ind., West Virginia University, and Westminster (Md.) Theological Seminary, and majored in New Testament and missions.

Reverend Burnette came here from the pastorate of First Christian Church, Grafton, W. Va., where in three years the church doubled its membership, more than tripled its giving to missions, and increased its budget 75 per cent.

Reverend Burnette has served as district youth chairman for the Southern and Monongahela District of West Virginia and at present is an alternate member of the committee of recommendations of the International Convention of the Christian Churches.

He was president and treasurer of the Grafton, W. Va., area ministerial association, was a member of the Lions Club and the Advisory Board of the Grafton Salvation Army. He is a member of the O. E. S. of Sulphur Springs, Indiana, and a member of MacDonald Lodge 103, A.F. and A.M., Mt. Hope, W. Va.

In 1952 Reverend Burnette married Miss Mary Carolyn Bookman in Mt. Hope, W. Va. They have one girl, Sheryl Ann, three years old. They are living in the parsonage, 507 Bedford Street.

Woman Hurt As Car Upsets

A Columbus, Ohio, woman was hospitalized here yesterday after the car she was operating went out of control on wet U.S. Route 40 near Grantsville, skidded into a utility pole and turned over.

Mrs. Melva Bowen Griffith, 57, of 1665 Northwest Boulevard, Columbus, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, where her condition was reported "fair" last night.

Attaches said she suffered a possible fractured spine, a deep laceration of her right leg and abrasions of her left leg and cheek.

The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. nearly three miles east of Grantsville on Route 40, wet with rains which fell during the day.

Mrs. Griffith, who was traveling east on a downgrade, attempted to negotiate a right hand curve but lost control of the car. It skidded to the north side of the road, struck a utility pole and turned over.

Tid. Glen D. Folk is investigating.

Legislators Scramble To Move Vehicles

Several members of a Legislative Council subcommittee scrambled for their cars yesterday afternoon after Mayor Roy W. Eves appeared to make a brief announcement.

The mayor announced that any cars parked on North Centre or North Mechanic streets after 4 p. m. would be towed away.

The incident caused a slight flurry in the meeting held yesterday afternoon in City Hall to hear and get local sentiment on the plan to develop the full capacity of the North Branch in this area.

CUF Delegates Plan Meeting To Organize

Quotas To Be Set For Communities

The initial meeting of representatives of the 15 communities associated with the County United Fund will be held Friday at Clarysville Inn to set up organizational lines for the drive. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Edmund S. Burke, president of the CUF, said the meeting is most important because it will be the first time all the representatives of the affiliated towns will meet together.

Mr. Burke said each town representative will be asked to set up a definite organization for his town, which will include committees for golden gifts, classified, business and residential sections.

Will Select Chairmen Mr. Burke and Lewis J. Ort, campaign chairman, will urge all the towns represented to have their chairman selected not later than Thursday, September 19, and to have the enlistment of the committee chairmen also by that date.

Mr. Ort said the cooperation of all the towns to date has been excellent, with Keyser, W. Va., being 75 per cent organized. He added that he hoped churches, civic groups and fraternal organizations within the area covered by United Fund will participate.

Mr. Ort also added the CUF will provide service for approximately 100,000 persons or 25,000 families through member agencies and this "makes it imperative that all potential givers rally together in this community undertaking."

"Citizens' Effort" "It is our hope," Mr. Ort said, "that this will be a citizen's effort throughout the entire area."

It is estimated that the share of communities in the area will amount to $50,000, while the remaining $200,000 of the $250,000 goal set up by CUF will be raised by Cumberland.

Mr. Ort said he hoped all of the residents of the area communities who will be invited to the meeting will attend and help set up plans for individual town organization.

Hyndman Youth Is Arrested On Morals Charge

A 20-year-old Hyndman, Pa., youth is being held without bond in Mineral County jail in Keyser on a charge of the statutory rape of a 15-year-old local girl Sunday in Ridgeley.

Richard D. Minnick and the girl, according to Police Chief Jack Cornett, were arrested Sunday night in a parked car on a vacant lot in Ridgeley.

Both of them signed statements, police said. They were taken before Justice of the Peace Gay Mellon yesterday morning in Keyser for a preliminary hearing after Chief Cornett swore out a warrant charging Minnick with statutory rape.

The girl, who was temporarily held in the detention quarters of the Keyser jail, has been released into the custody of her parents. During the hearing she was charged with being a delinquent minor.

Chief Cornett said the police department has been receiving numerous complaints of disorderly conduct in parked cars on vacant lots in Ridgeley.

On Sunday about 11 p. m. while he and Assistant Chief Ernest Twigg Jr. were patrolling the community in the cruiser they spotted the Hyndman youth and the girl in the car.

Police said the girl refused to have a medical examination after being arrested.
